

THE DENTURES BIBLE

The complete guide to the Dentures. Everything to do with the Dentures is here. Characters, places, events, groups, times everything.

The Dentures is an epic tale of failings.

The Dentures starts on the first Monday of May of 2006. We see a pan starting from the glowing doorway of Mr Barnacles surgery and ending up at Mr Puddles sitting in the darkened reception (Alongside him is one of the suitcases from the unfinished film 'The Suitcase') . Playing alongside this pan is the music from Psycho. Overlapping this music are some sound effects of dental tools which become more elaborate. Starting from a simple drill ending up at the sound of a hammer banging metal. After this pan the film illegally cuts away from this thrilling mood and we now see light everywhere and Mr Puddles is called in by Gladys the receptionist.

Barnacle asks about Puddles problem he says he has plaque. Barnacle says he has just the tool for this and takes out a pick axe. He begins to start axing Mr Puddles continuously for a good 30 seconds not knowing he is doing anything wrong. Puddles appears to have his heart burst and blood shoot over and squirts on the wall and door. Mr Barnacle seeing his mistake declares it is lunchtime and leaves his surgery.

The Next Day – Tuesday

Exterior of the surgery

Mr Barnacle is seen shaking hands with a delivery man who has just delivered a large box. The delivery man returns to his lorry and drives off. On this lorry is a large sign saying LAZR – EYE SURGEON EQUIPMENT. The lorry speeds off. An hour past and a car pulls out. It is Mr Ridgeway. He gets out the car and walks into the surgery. Mr Barnacle greets him. After some light conversation Mr Barnacle states they have some new equipment in and asks would he mind being the first to use it. Mr Ridgeway is uncertain but Barnacle gets Ridgeway to volunteer by stating...

“You'll be a pioneer in the field of dentistry!”

Mr Ridgeway thinks about what Barnacle has just said. He then begins to go on a trip or day dream what his life would be like if he was a pioneer in the field of dentistry. We then see in his mind where White Rabbit by Jefferson Airplane is being seen. In his mind....

We can see what seems to be a party in Barnacles waiting room with a large tube of Colgate toothpaste, a monkey swinging from the rafters. A floating flower machine, various candy rappers and many more. Also the back wall seems to be transparent and we can see the cowboy footage from Casino Royale (1967)

2 hours 4 minutes and 8 seconds into Casino Royale

Other things we can see is black and white footage of Reg Kehoe and his Marimba Queens performing 'A Study In Brown' also various clips from Science And Technology section of the BBC stock footage library and some clips from Nature featuring fish.

Bald Tache's surreal appearance in Ridgeway's mind.

Making an appearance in Mr Ridgeway's head is Bald Tasche. His real name is unknown. Who he works for is also unknown. What is known about Bald Tasche is that he has been known to appear around scenes of major events in The Dentures saga. He was in the audience at the Award De La Denté, he was in the head of one of Mr Barnacles patients at the time. He also appeared at the ruins of Barnacles Surgery after the Dentures escaped after killing Barnacle. This man appears throughout time it appears he is ageless or has the power of time travel.

Another point of interest in the Trip scene is that another one of the suitcases appears from the unfinished film 'The Suitcase'.

After Mr Ridgeway has his trip he decides that that is the life for him and allows Barnacle to use the new equipment. In the surgery it appears that Barnacle has set up a laser from LAZR EYE SURGEONS but is using it in dentistry. After activation Ridgeway cries with pain and his hair burns and then his head falls off.

The Next Day - Wednesday

Outside the surgery Mr Barnacle is seen shaking hands with a delivery boy who has just gave a large parcel. He then walks back to his lorry and it speeds off. On this lorry is a sign saying Dr. Kananga's Croc' Farm (a reference to Live And Let Die)

Later that day Black Beard comes to Barnacle on rowing boat down the road. He needs Barnacle's help to rid his Scurvy which he gained from one of many orange-less cruise to the Caribbean. Barnacle thinks he has too pull a tooth out and thinks he needs a surgeon. So he calls in his 'Surgeon Friend' which turns out to be a crocodile. Now whether this crocodile was Barnacle's friend and whether he was a trained

Black Beard appearing in front of Barnacle's weapon collection.

Surgeon we will never know. What we do know is that the crocodile viciously attacked and ate Black Beard. Although this just seems like another comic death. Black Beards death will effect the future.

The Next Day – Thursday

Barnacle receives a letter in the post. The letter is from Major Reginald Wilmington Fayres. The organiser Award De La Denté. An organisation like the Academy Awards for Dentistry. The letter informs Barnacle he is invited to come and he has won an award. Reading the letter out loud to viewers is the voice of the Major. However at the end of the scene the camera pulls back to see the Major speaking through a megaphone.

The Next Day – Friday

It is the award ceremony it is being watched by many in the audience and at home internationally. This is one of the biggest showbiz nights of the year.

On the red carpet many celebrity dentists are appearing. The dentist appear eager to get to the door. They start walking fast then the last car comes and out comes a horse. The showbiz journalist is reporting this on the news his reporting style changes from a showbiz kind of reporter to a horse race commentator. The horse begins to run to the door. The other dentist also begin to run. The red carpet appears to have changed into a horse race track. Another horse runs in and the race becomes intent. Coming to the end of the track one dentist is running so fast he dives over the finish line and flies into the hotel foyer where the awards are being held. The announce changes back to his showbiz type reporter voice and carries on with the news.

Inside the foyer the winning dentist is in a bin waving his legs on a bench next to it Mr Barnacle is sitting on his own. Then along comes a pompous dentist (Who is actually Bumberdwire but we'll hear more about this later) He stands above Barnacle and says that he doesn't have a have a chance of winning an award. Barnacle says that he has been told he's won something. Bumberdwire snorts and walks off.

The awards have started. After many awards are handed out they come to the final award. The Major who is the presenter tells us the final award has never been used and that there is only one nominee. He calls out Mr Barnacle who walks up to the stage. The Major explains to him that he can only take the award once he has stated what it is for. He announced the award is for 'The Worst Dentist Ever!' Once he said this the entire audience begin to laugh and so does everyone at home.

Barnacle walks out of the hotel. Everyone in the hotel including staff laugh their heads off as he walks past. Outside in the street everyone laughs. A man driving a car laughs uncontrollably and crashes his car into a shop which then explodes. Barnacle stops at a street corner and shouts for a taxi. A taxi stops and Barnacle gets in and says his destination. The taxi driver who hadn't seen who it is says "Sure thing boss!" He tries to spark up a conversation "Terrible weather eh boss? I was hoping it would be sunny seeing as it's those dentistry awards the night! Talking of which..." he begins to giggle "... did you see the last fella!" He then bursts out laughing. Barnacle sighs. "Not very talkative are you now" He looks behind to Barnacle “Oh! It's you! Hahahaha” The driver then laughs for the duration of the ride. Barnacle goes into his house as the drivers laughs echo from down the road as he pulls off. He sits on his bed turns on the TV. It is the news

“...and if it wasn't for Cuddles the kitten all the disabled orphans would have died! Haha” Says News guy 1

“Cute. In other news NASA has allowed the astronauts on the Space Station to talk to the press following recent repairs. Channel 7 has been lucky enough to get to talk to them. Hello astronauts!” Says news guy 2

“Hello down there on Earth! We're up here!” says astronaut

“Yes you are. So would you like to talk about how the damaged came from in the first place?” News guy 2

“Well we did want to tell you about that but NASA just sent us a recording of those Dentistry awards” Other astronauts begin to laugh. He continues “Haha! I mean how can a dentist get so bad. Haha! Did you see his face too! Oh I just about jettisoned the living quarters because I couldn't concentrate I was laughing to hard Haha. Hahahaha. I'm sorry. Hahaha. I can't go on Hahahaha!” All the astronauts laugh

Barnacle changes channel. There is a crappy talk show on.

“So Clive talk about your new film”

“Well Joe it's a film about laughing at people who we are better than...”

The talk show host interrupts

Everyone laughs

Barnacle changes channel. There is a cheap horror tv movie on “Shirley! There is something I need to tell you! I'm changing into something I can't control.” There is lightning outside “Every full moon I have a transformation... into something.. or someone... which makes it impossible for me to... AHHHH! Impossible to.... Ahhhh Brush My Teeth!” Shirley then screams. There is dramatic music. An announcer says “We return to Dr Jekyll And Mr Barnacle after this short word from our sponsor”

“Hi! I'm Peter Collins and I want to talk to you about gas. Are you sick of using Nitrous Oxide in your surgery? Are you worried you may confuse the canister of Nitrous Oxide for Cyanide Gas yet again? Well now you won't have to because now you won't need to use any methods involving gas now you can hire Mr Barnacle! No he won't get close enough to the patient to kill them! Haha! He will be at a safe enough distance to have your patient in hysterics in no time!”

Barnacle throws his remote control at the TV then picks it up and throws it out the window. A pedestrian walking by shouts “HEY! WHO THE HELL WAS THAT!... OH IT'S YOU! HAHAHAHAHAHHA!” Barnacle shuts the window and goes to sleep

Barnacle is dreaming but he doesn't know

There is a rapid knocking at his door. He gets up and slowly walks to the door. “Who is it?!”. There is a silence then the knocking again. Barnacle opens the door. Instead of the hallway of the flat he faces a black void and his door is floating in it. He falls through his door before he can think. He begins to fall. White streaks begin to paint the void as he falls. Then streaks of blue it has turned into the sky. He keeps falling. He can hear faint laughing. He then lands on a giant fluffy cloud.

Then he begins to see giant ghostly heads of people he has seen. The first head appears It's Major Reginald Wilmington Fayres. “Oh Barnacle fabulous show last night! I wouldn't have got the ratings if it wasn't for you! We must have you back next year! I'll have to invent some new awards for that! Haha!”

The Major fades away.

The pompous dentist (bumberdwire) appears “Ooooh Barnacle! Last night when you said you were getting an award! You had me thinking you had some hidden talent that I failed to beat out your system! When I saw you walk up on that stage I was ready to shoot you! Haha! But when you got the award you gave me one of the biggest laughs I've ever had in years! Hahahahahahahaha!” He then fades

An elderly man and woman then appear. Barnacle says “Mother! Father?!”

Father: "Son did I bring you up to be a Failure? All those years in dental college... all for nothing?"

His mother interrupts: "Wasn't that our other son? You know the good one?"

The father: "We only have one son."

Mother: "Oh? What about the boy that comes round at Christmas?"

Father: "That's my sisters boy. Kevin"

Mother: "Oh. Why couldn't we have had a son like that, Henry?"

Father: "I told we should have sent him to military school. They'd have made a man out of our boy sending him to that college was a bad idea and a waste of money!"

Mother: "Well I sent him to college because I thought we had two sons. I thought we were paying for the good one. The one who had all those good results and the teachers said nice things about him"

Father: "It couldn't have been our son. Look at the boy, Cyril! No backbone. No nothing!"

Mother: "Well I suppose but I swear someone was getting good grades at college"

Barnacle shouts "Mother! It was me! Let me explain. Mother!... Mother?!"
His parents faded away.

Barnacle stairs into the empty white sky where his parents faces were.
Behind him a large red mean face appears. "Boo!"

Barnacle jumps "Who are you!"

Demon: Me? I'm your personal demon. I follow you around all the time. I watch your successes I watch your failures. I don't just watch of coarse I get myself involved. If you have a success I'll give you ten failures to follow it. You do something nice. I'll turn it bad. Help an elderly lady across the road. I'll be driving the speeding truck. That's the same for if anything nice happens to you. When you were you were about to graduate from college I couldn't see you have a successful life. Imagine what my boss would think if he saw my client succeed! I had to make you fail your final exam. I had to give you the terrible surgery. I had to make your life misery. I'm sure you understand. Anyway as your life has begun to plunge completely out of control into a grey puddle of fail I've decided to procure you a place in hell. You have your own cave to dig! No sharing! One big lovely cave just for you. I am nice! Watch out below.”

The cloud then opens up and barnacle begins to fall. The land below begins to earthquake and hole is torn open. Barnacle falls through this and plunges into hell. He lands in his cave where the opening has been covered in a mental barred fence. He was caged in. He wants out he runs up to the bars. A devil like part human part monster shouts “DIIIIGGG!!!!”

A pick axe appears in his hand. The devil shouts “DIIIIGGGG!” again. He begins to start axing the rock. Some rocks fall away to reveal Mr Puddles saying “I don't think you should be doing that” This echoes Barnacle jumps away from Mr Puddles. He then hears himself saying “I'm a dentist I should know” He then begins to roll on the ground in madness hearing himself over and over again. The monster sees him.

“DIIIIGGGG!!!! GRRRR!! DIIIIIIIIIIIIIIIGGGGG!”

Mr Barnacle scare and breathing heavy crawls back from the devil. The devil is angry as he isn't building “GRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRR” He then. Hell begins to shake. Fires get larger. A large stone part of the cave begins to fall down. Looming over Barnacle. Barnacle shouts “NOOOOOOOOOO” as the stone falls on him it goes black. And he jumps out of bed! Breathing heavily.
