FADE IN:

INT. MOVIE SET - DAY

A DIRECTOR is about to shoot a big scene.

DIRECTOR
And ACTION!

A car drives by and a big dinosaur foot stomps down on it and misses.

DIRECTOR
Cut! No! Can't you do anything right.

DARTH VADER tele-ports in from the future.

DIRECTOR
What the...

DARTH VADER
I came to put an end to this.

DIRECTOR
Get of my set.

Darth Vader picks up the car and tries to smash it down on the Director, but misses.

DARTH VADER
You will be terminated.

DIRECTOR
Oh, yeah. Let's even the odds here.

Suddenly there are two more CLONE DIRECTORS.

DARTH VADER
I will put an end to all these sequels once and for all.

DIRECTOR
Get him boys.

Darth Vader whips out a big gun and shots the clones with slow-mo bullets. The clone directors lean back and the bullets miss them.

DIRECTOR (CONT'D)
HA! You missed us.

The bullets do a 180 and hit the clone directors from the back. They are vaporized.

DARTH VADER
You fools, I from the future,
you're no match for me.

Darth Vader hits the light-stands with laser balls causing them to fall on the Director.

DIRECTOR
Nooooo...

The Director is crush by the two light-stands falling on him. Darth Vader walks over to him.

DARTH VADER
I have been sent from the future by a group of renegade directors to stop you from making anymore sequels.

DIRECTOR
But, why?

DARTH VADER
Because in the future the only movies the studios make are sequels.

A light saber appears in Darth Vader's hand.

You will die well.

All of suddenly, the Director pushes the light-stands off of him. Jumps up and kicks Darth Vader with a flying kick.

DIRECTOR
And, ACTION!

Then a gigantic foot smashes Darth Vader.

DIRECTOR
I don't think so.

The Director whips out a cell phone.

DIRECTOR
Hey, let me run this ideal up a flag pole: From now on we only make sequels.
