

Joint Junction

By

Kevin Gurney

Kevin Gurney 2009

EXT. JUNGLE AFTERNOON

FADE IN FROM BLACK

(30,000 Years Ago)

WIDE:

Two Mayan men walk into the jungle. they notice a rock with a shiny object that lay upon its smooth surface.

CLOSE UP:

MAYAN 1
(Subtitles)
What is that?

CLOSE UP:

MAYAN 2
I don't know.

CLOSE UP:

MAYAN 1
Let us look.

WIDE:

MAYAN 2
Yes, let us.

The two Mayans walk toward the object.

MEDIUM CLOSE UP:

Indian 1 picks up the object.

INDIAN 1
Can... can it be?

WIDE FRONT:

INDIAN 2
It is.

MEDIUM BEHIND:

INDIAN 1
We can not let anyone find this.
Ever. Me must bury it, so that it may never be seen by another's eyes. For if anyone ever finds the sacred stone of the gods, all will be lost.

(CONTINUED)

FADE OUT TO BLACK

EXT. JUNGLE MORNING (2009 A.D)

WIDE:

(Today)

Two treasure hunters search the jungle

PETER

This is the spot.

MARC

Are you sure?

PETER

Positive. I didn't spend my whole career researching the ancient maps of the Maya, just to get lost.

MARC

Exactly what are we looking for again?

PETER

The sacred stone of the Mayan gods.

MARC

And... why do you care about a rock?

PETER

Its not just a rock, Marc. Ancient Mayan legends say that it contains unlimited power, and the one who holds it gains immortality.

MARC

Sounds to me like you've been reading too many children's story books.

PETER

No, I'm sure that it is real. I just know it.

MARC

Very well then. Let us proceed.

PETER

Right. According to my theory the stone should be burried right beneath us.

(CONTINUED)

MARC

Well, we're not going to know standing here. Grab a shovel and lets get to work!