Mechanical Eye Detail

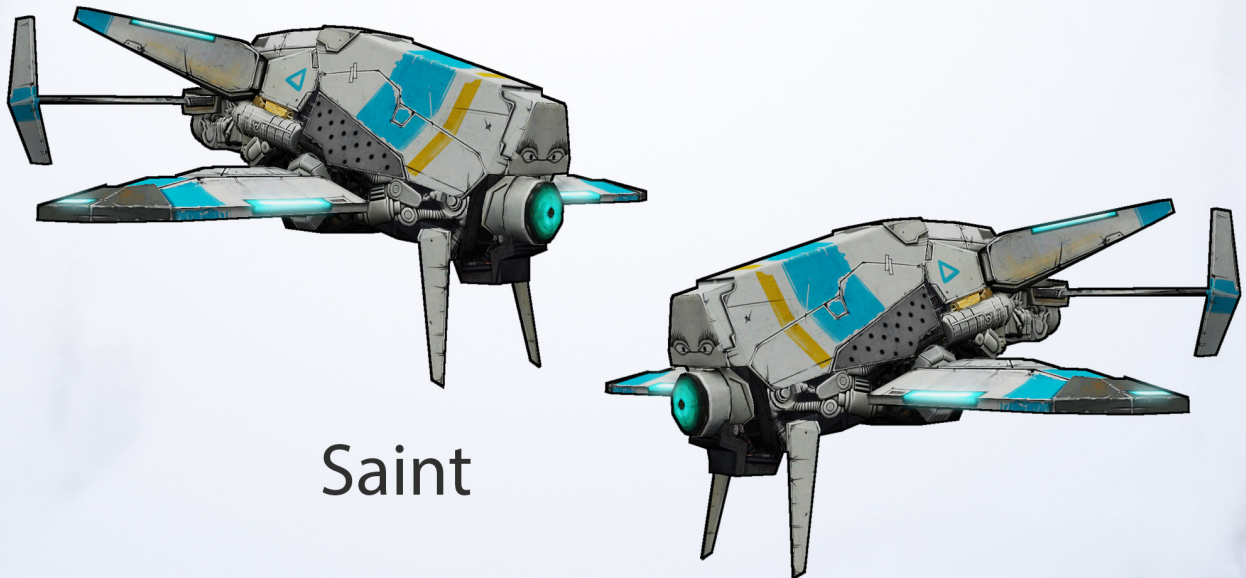

"Wilhelm changes over time, gaining new robotic limbs and becoming less human. He is a soldier and enforcer, built to attack. He favors big, aggressive weapons like shotguns and assault rifles, and he has a love for Hyperion. And stomping. He loves stomping things. STOMP! Like that. He loves that."

- Matt Armstrong, Borderlands Franchise Director

“Wilhelm. Galaxy famous mercenary. Undefeated warrior. After an injury forced him to get a replacement mechanical eye, he becomes obsessed with the idea of upgrading through technology. When Jack offers him access to the greatest augmentation technology Hyperion has to offer, he joins without hesitation, oblivious to the loss of humanity he has doomed himself to.” - Matt Armstrong, Borderlands Franchise Director
