Listen and fill in the blanks.

Everyone likes _____. They are brave and exciting. We know that they are not real. Yet superheroes can change how we see _____.

The original Wonder Woman was the first _____. Her first comic book _____ in 1941. At that time, most jobs were _____ women. They could not work as doctors, lawyers, or truck drivers. Wonder Woman was a hero for girls. She showed girls that they can be strong. She _____ that women can do anything.

Before Spider-Man, most superheroes were perfect people. The first Spider-Man was Peter Parker. He was a _____. He was a normal person with normal problems. Spider-Man proved that shy people can be brave. He showed us that an ordinary person can do _____ things.

Batman had no super powers. He used hard work and science to fight bad guys. He _____ his body to be strong and fast. He also _____ tools to catch _____. Batman rarely rested. During the day, he was Bruce Wayne. At night he _____ his city. He showed that real heroes don't need special powers. They just need to _____ and use their brains.

Fighting bad guys is exciting. But superheroes' most important job is making you feel _____, too.
