About Hand in Hand

Course Approach

Every student deserves a dynamic education that prepares them for life in the 21st century. Hand in Hand is skillfully designed to deliver exactly the education that students need to succeed in today's world. At the heart of Hand in Hand is the recognition that global awareness, content and language integrated learning (CLIL), and 21st century skills are necessary components for success, both in classrooms and the outside world. Hand in Hand is a comprehensive seven-level course designed to transform students into confident English speakers and capable global citizens.

Course Features

Hand in Hand takes English learning to a whole new level. The series incorporates proven English language learning techniques with an innovative twist: 21st century design. Each unit is infused with exercises and activities that encourage communication, collaboration, critical thinking, and creativity. Additionally, Hand in Hand recognizes the growing importance of a globalized curriculum and the practicality of content and language integrated learning (CLIL). It includes a glimpse into a different world via a specialized section, The World around Us, which showcases assorted countries, experiences, and students from other cultures. School Link segments blend academic content (such as social studies, science, art, and math) and language-learning together to make for a dynamic curriculum.

Course Philosophy

- Learn English together - Inspire communication and cooperation with one another.
- Share cultures together - Help create a global community built on mutual understanding and respect.
- Grow and develop together - Cultivate necessary skills to become successful global citizens.
- Go beyond boundaries - Challenge students to explore new ideas and ways of thinking.

Course Level Guide

Hand in Hand is uniquely designed for students studying at an elementary school level. The first book in the series, Hand in Hand Starter, is intended for students at the very beginning of their English education. The remaining six course books progress consistently so that students are able to master communicative interactions and self-expression in various contexts. Hand in Hand combines steady vocabulary and grammar progression with the functional objectives of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) and Young Learners English (YLE) Tests, and features language that students can use in their daily lives. The following chart illustrates where the Hand in Hand series stands in comparison to the CEFR and YLE.

Course Outline

I. Regular Unit

Conversation

Each regular unit begins with an engaging conversation. The characters' dialog has been modeled after natural language, containing common vocabulary and useful expressions for everyday English.

Unit 2 My Things

Conversation

A Listen and repeat. Then act out with friends.

A

Students are introduced to the unit's overarching theme in a fun context through an informative conversation. Bright visuals, animated voice acting, and carefully planned sentence structures are in place to help students acquire the language through listening and replicating.

B Listen and sing.

Hello! Hello!

Hello. Hello.
Mila, this is Matt.

Hello. Hello.
Matt, this is Mila.

Hello, Mila. My name's Matt.
Hello, Matt. My name's Mila.
Hello, Mila.
Hello, Matt.

C Listen and write the number. Then act out.

1 Hello, Sunny. 2 Hello, I'm Sunny. 3 What's your name? 4 Fluffy, this is Sunny.

B

Altering the pace and input method, this exercise explores the target language in a fresh, dynamic way. Students are reintroduced to the language through a fun song. This exercise encourages students to sing and dance, increasing receptivity and natural language acquisition.

C

Linking the conversational language of the current unit with previously acquired language, students are able to enjoy, review, and learn at the same time. The combination of learned language structures used in a new context is optimal for constructing and reinforcing meaning.

Hand in Hand delivers the education that students need to succeed in the 21st century. Uniting EFL education with a comprehensive and globalized curriculum, this seven-level series helps students grow into capable and globalized learners. Thorough instruction, engaging content, and integrated learning have been systematically woven into each course book. Hand in Hand is designed to transform students into confident English speakers and competent global citizens.

Words and Grammar

This section presents the words and grammar central to the target language. Learner-centered activities are provided to encourage student participation and active learning.

Words and Grammar

A Listen and repeat. Then point and say. 15

B Listen and repeat. Then ask and answer. 16

A New words are clearly presented with bright illustrations and rich audio. Students are able to clearly identify and classify new vocabulary.

The grammar focus is introduced concisely, giving context to the learned vocabulary. Students are able to see how grammar structures and vocabulary function together.

C Listen and repeat. Then ask and answer. 15

D Listen and circle Yes or No. 16

E Look at D. Ask and answer. Is this a pen? Yes, it is.

C Students observe the target language being used in an authentic setting. By listening and repeating, students become familiar with the structures before they are asked to use them independently.

D E Students take part in interactive activities that boost their understanding and familiarity of the language. Using the language practically and purposefully increases genuine acquisition and builds fluency.

The World around Us

The World around Us promotes global awareness by spotlighting a different country, custom, or culture for students to learn about. The subject matter is correlated with the main theme of the unit and offers students an opportunity to see the target language structures in use.

The World around Us

A Look and listen. Then choose and write.

In My School Bag

Hi! My name is Rosa.
I live in Mexico.
This is my school bag.

B Think and color. What's in your school bag?

A Students are introduced to a different world with the help of learned vocabulary and language. The pictures are designed to be interesting and educational so students can better understand and follow along with the audio. After listening, there is an exercise to check comprehension.

B This exercise promotes critical thinking and creativity as students assess their understanding and think about their own world.

Unit Link

Unit Link functions as a collective and constant review. The review is cumulative so that students are able to link current language targets with material they have learned in past lessons.

Unit Link u1, u2

A Listen and answer.

B Point and say. This is a pencil.

A The pictures and corresponding audio allow students to look, listen, and review their cumulative language skills. The exercise is clearly structured so that students have an example for correctly using the language.

B Open-ended and student-based, this exercise lets students adapt the language and collaborate with their peers. In this section, students are asked to expand their communication ability by using any and all of their available language skills.

II. CLIL Unit

School Link

School Link skillfully integrates global curriculum and language education into the same fulfilling learning experience. Students explore interesting topics shaped by different academic subjects such as science, math, social studies, and physical education. While students are immersed in a topic, they are concurrently practicing and acquiring the target language.

Think and Say

1. What school do you like best?
2. What does your school look like?

Key Words

boat bamboo trees
cat rainbow

Students are introduced to an interesting topic through appealing visuals, clear audio, and comprehensible text. The content is related to the prior lessons so that students are at ease with the level.

B

Critical thinking and creativity come together so that students can assess their understanding and express what they have learned. Key Words reiterate the new content vocabulary in the text.

This is a school in France. Look at the rainbow colors.

This is a school in Germany. It looks like a cat.

Project

Draw your dream school. Share it with the class.

This is my dream school. It's in a tree.

C

The project section supports creativity and communication within the classroom. Students are presented with an objective and the guidelines to accomplish it. Once guidelines are in place, students can work freely. When students meet their goals, they present their work to the class.

English Sounds

English Sounds helps students strengthen their foundational phonics skills.

Teaching Techniques

21st Century Skills: Communication, Collaboration, Critical Thinking, and Creativity

Students of the 21st century need an education that will help them succeed in today's world. Hand in Hand establishes and cultivates the 21st century skills necessary for success.

• Communication:

Students develop their interpersonal, intrapersonal, and presentational skills through communicative exercises, class activities, and independent presentations.

• Collaboration:

Students learn how to work together in order to achieve a common goal. Collaborative exercises appear throughout the student book, giving students the opportunity to enhance cooperation and collaboration skills.

• Critical thinking:

Students practice purposeful and goal-directed thinking. They analyze and solve problems, put together inferences, and make thoughtful decisions based on information.

• Creativity:

Students are encouraged to express their ideas. Project Book assignments take on more than one format to allow students to develop their resourcefulness and flexibility.

CLIL Segment

Content and Language Integrated Learning (CLIL) makes English teaching more interesting, more valuable, and more potent. When teachers integrate school subjects into their EFL classes, lessons become dual-focused; students are learning subject content while acquiring English.

The School Link section of Hand in Hand focuses on a subject, such as social studies, science, art, math, or PE, and combines it with previously learned grammar, structures, and vocabulary. Each course book contains six School Link sections so that teachers can include diversified instructional content to make language learning more interesting and inspiring.

Teaching Global Awareness

Because of the rapidly increasing interconnectedness in the world, teaching global awareness in the classroom is becoming progressively more necessary. In order to create global citizens, teachers must infuse their classrooms and their lessons with global awareness. Students need to develop the ability to understand global issues, learn from and work with people from other cultures, and understand the cultures of other nations.

The World around Us section of Hand in Hand provides students with the opportunity to learn about people from around the world. Teachers can supplement this section by showing videos, pictures, and related media. Students can take part in culture-specific discussions, readings, and writing activities. Consider setting up a pen pal program that would allow your students to communicate with other EFL students around the world.

Technology in the Classroom

Today's students must be technologically fluent in order to compete in the real world. There are two defining aspects of technological education:

• Technology adoption:

Students should be exposed to multiple modes of technology. It is important for students to feel comfortable using and learning new kinds of technology. If possible, teachers should show students how to best utilize computers, software and hardware, smart phones, and tablets by incorporating them into class instruction and curriculum.

• Digital literacy:

Students should be developing the ability to obtain, evaluate, and interpret digital information. If possible, teach students how to locate digital resources, assess sources, and construct new information from their findings.

Eliciting

Instead of giving your students information directly, try eliciting it! When you elicit ideas and language from your students, you are giving them a sense of ownership in your class. Elicitation empowers students, invests them in their own learning, and increases the motivation of the class as a whole. Teachers can find out what the students know and build on their prior collective knowledge by eliciting throughout the lesson. A few techniques: miming, modeling, gap-fills, drawing, lists, synonyms/antonyms, hints, and visuals.

Collaborative Pairs

Collaborative pairing or grouping is a way to engage student thinking and organize the class structure. Learning is a social activity and collaborative pairing capitalizes on student socialization. Pairing students to work together creates a social setting which limits opportunities to disengage. Students must produce results because of the intimate setting. Collaborative pairs increase student achievement, teaching collaboration, communication, interpersonal communication, and energize learning. When creating pairs of students, remember to group carefully by ability. The best groupings are high-middle, middle-middle, and middle-low.

Building Background

Before starting a new lesson, it is important to build up students' background knowledge in the lesson topic. By building background knowledge, students will be able to make connections to the material and activate their prior knowledge. Before teaching content, link the lesson's concepts to students' personal, cultural, or academic experience. They will be able to understand the lesson more clearly and naturally be more motivated during class.

Scaffolding

Teachers can help students grow into independent learners by using scaffolding techniques. Teachers can assist students when they are struggling with the degree of curriculum by providing successive levels of temporary support. Overtime, teachers gradually remove this temporary support, leading their students to take on more responsibility.

- Verbal scaffolding:

paraphrasing, repeating student response, slowing speech/increasing pauses/speaking in phrases

- Procedural scaffolding:

explicit teaching, modeling, small group instruction, partnering

- Instructional scaffolding:

graphic organizers, models of completed assignments

Rubrics

Rubrics can be very useful for both students and teachers. A rubric is a set of confirmed criteria, including descriptions of levels of accomplishment that can be used to assess performances. When shared with students at the beginning of an assignment, rubrics help students plan and monitor their own work. The expectations of the assignment are clearly defined so that over time rubrics help students build up the concept of what it means to perform a skill well. Rubrics help the teacher focus on developing students' learning of skills instead of mere task completion. The Hand in Hand Teacher's Manual provides teachers with a descriptive rubric.

Photocopiable rubric is located on page 189.

Printable and editable rubric is located in the Teacher Resource CD.

Games and Activities

All of your students learn differently! Some students learn best by reading. Some students are visual learners who like watching. Other students are physical learners who need to move around the classroom. Learning styles vary from student to student. Often students have a mixture of learning styles, some styles stronger than others. By incorporating games and activities into your curriculum, you are ensuring that your students will be able to develop their ideal learning styles and genuinely engage in the lessons.

Games and activities are an easy, fun way to spice up your class. They can be dynamic, funny, physical or mental, just as long as they are educational! Each and every activity that you include in your class should be used as a means to an end: language acquisition. There are many kinds of activities that can be used to assist language acquisition.

The following pages are divided into three sections: Games & Activities for Speaking, Games & Activities for Vocabulary, and Games & Activities for Vocabulary and Grammar. For further information on the targets of each activity, please refer to the key below:

- ③ Hand out the Worksheets and have students fill out the writing portion first. Circle around the room and help students with spelling and grammar.
- ④ When students finish the writing portion, have them begin the drawing portion.
- ⑤ Select a few students to come to the front of the class and present their Show and Tell Worksheets.
- ⑥ Make sure the students in the audience are politely listening. Encourage them to ask questions and clap at the end of each presentation.

Toss the Ball

- Materials: a ball or a bean bag
- Grouping: as a class
- ① Have the class form a circle.
- ② Toss a ball or a bean bag to a student and use the target language to ask a question or say a sentence.

 - ④ Students reply Yes, it is. / No, it isn't.
 - ⑤ If the blindfolded student does not recognize the item, have other students give hints.
 - ⑥ Once the item has been correctly identified, blindfold another student and repeat the process.

 - ③ Ask students what other related items could be drawn on the board.
 - ④ Have students come up singularly or in teams and add to the picture with their own drawings.
 - ⑤ When the class is finished, open up a discussion about the topic related items that they have drawn.

Mix It up!

- Materials: chairs
 - Grouping: as a class
- ① Form a large circle of chairs with one chair per student and have them sit down.
 - ② Write 3–6 vocabulary words on the board. Assign each student one vocabulary word. Each vocabulary word should be assigned to two or more students.
 - ③ Stand in the middle of the circle of chairs and call out one vocabulary word.
 - ④ The students who were assigned to that vocabulary word have to stand up and quickly find a new chair to sit on.
 - ⑤ The person in the middle who called out the vocabulary word also needs to find a chair to sit on so there will be one less chair than the number of players.
 - ⑥ The student who cannot find a chair to sit on will go to the middle of the circle and calls out a vocabulary word and the game repeats.
 - ⑦ Instead of calling out a vocabulary word, the student in the middle can also shout out Mix it up! which means all students must get up and find a new chair to sit on.
