

Retired Coal Operator Gives Millions to Philanthropic Research

DONOR DEVOTES EXCESS FORTUNE TO FELLOW-MEN

Institution Expected to Surpass Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, April 22.—Expenditure of millions of dollars in establishment of a philanthropic institution designed to surpass eventually in scope the Rockefeller and Carnegie Foundations, outlined by John Markle, retired coal operator, in the New York American today.

Almost every form of scientific and medical research work, educational activity and welfare enterprise will share in the John and Mary R. Markle Foundation, to be started with a contemplated initial fund of $3,000,000 says the American. Papers of incorporation were to be filed in Albany today.

Purposes of the Foundation include: Creation and maintenance of medical research centres, hospitals, charitable institutions and educational agencies; study of disease and development of methods of eradication; support to libraries and assistance to destitute individuals.

Establishment of the Foundation is another step in the philosophy of the founder that every dollar earned in excess of living costs becomes a trust for fellow-men.

"All you get out of life is a living," Mr. Markle said, "and that degree of living is evidenced by your mortal body. Every dollar you have in excess of the cost of living is evidence of your success in the commercial world, as much as your diploma from college is evidence that you have passed through the curriculum."

"With these funds in your possession you become trustee for your fellow-men and should so use these funds." While continuance of the charities in which they are already engaged is the immediate aim of the donor, the Foundation is planned to carry on this work in the event of the death of either founder. Incorporators of the Foundation include J. Pierpont Morgan, Junius S. Morgan, Jr., Morgan J. O'Brien, and Seward Prosser.

"The Foundation will endeavor to promote the advancement and diffusion of knowledge among the people of the United States and to promote the general good of mankind," said Mr. Markle.

Hamilton Spellers Clash Tonight in Unofficial Bee

Champions to Test Ability Before Audience at Greenwood School—Preparations Are Going Forward for National Contest at Washington—Interesting Program Arranged

Hamilton Township's unofficial spelling bee takes place tonight at 8 o'clock at the Greenwood School. At this time the school champions and their alternates who will represent their various districts in the Mercer County semi-final of the Times contest next Friday night will test their ability to spell before an audience. The contest has no direct bearing on the outcome of the Times semi-final, but is interesting in that Hamilton Township has the largest representation in the County Bee and has furnished the county champion both last year and the year before.

Preparations are now going forward for the National Bee in Washington, D. C., which will be held the week of June 20. Both will take part in the Mercer County semi-final.

Alice Sennett

for all spellers while in the Capital will be at the Hotel Hamilton, where very comfortable accommodations were enjoyed a year ago.

The program for this year, as in the past, calls for an interesting eight-seater tour each day that the party is in Washington, and will include a trip to Mount Vernon.

Prize money to be distributed this year amounts to $2,500, or $500 more than was awarded last year, and $1,500 more than the prizes distributed last year. The prizes are distributed to the winners of the National Contest stage this year will share in the division of Gold.

Next week will see the completion of three semi-finals in the Times contest. The first will take place Thursday evening at Asbury Park and will include all the spellers from Monmouth County. The second will take place Friday afternoon at Doylestown when the Bucks County champion will be selected. The third will be the Mercer County semi-final which takes place a week from tonight.

Today's pictures are of Alice Sennett, champion of the Slackwood School, and Corliez Rentner, champion of the Parkway School. Both will take part in the Mercer County semi-final.

JAMISON IS HELD FOR TRUCK DEATH

Girl Meets Death in Strange Accident on Farm Near Skillman

Joseph Jamison, of 1613 Prospect Street, Trenton, is being held on a manslaughter charge as a result of the strange accident in which Miss Jacqueline Bryier, 23 years old, met death on the Bryier Farm near Skillman yesterday. The girl was riding on a gas-line truck operated by Jamison, and was crushed to death under the wheels when she either fell or jumped from the running board.

The accident happened on a lane leading from a barn to the Bryier farmhouse. Jamison, who is employed by the Standard Oil Company, delivered a quantity of gasoline at the farm. After he had filled the tank at the barn, Miss Bryier climbed on the running board of the truck and directed Jamison to drive to the house so that she could get some money to pay for the gasoline.

When the truck approached the house, the vehicle was jolted as though it had passed over a bump. As the lane was smooth surfaced, Jamison stopped to see whether a part of the equipment had fallen under the wheels. He found the lifeless body of Miss Bryier. One of the wheels of the heavy vehicle had passed over her chest, killing her instantly. Jamison later said he had heard no screaming of the victim.

The body of Miss Bryier was removed to the morgue of Conner Center Bodine, at Kingston, after an examination by the county physician. Miss Bryier lived on the farm with two brothers. Her father and two sisters also survive.

The Bryier farm, a tract of considerable acreage, is located on the Hopewell-Skillman Road. Jamison was filling an order for gasoline, and was extensively on the farm for operation of tractors, trucks and other equipment, when the tragedy occurred.

BUGBEE IS HONORED ON 51ST BIRTHDAY

State Comptroller Newton A. K. Bugbee was tendered a dinner at the Trenton Country Club last night by the executive officers of the State Institution for the Feeble-minded. The occasion marked his 51st birthday.

State Institutions Commissioner Ellis presided at the dinner, which was attended by 60 guests. During the evening Mr. Bugbee was presented with a jeweled Masonic watch charm with a place one which he lost some time ago.

VETERAN HIGH IN TEST

John E. Cox, a veteran, of 619 Chambers Street, was first in a civil service examination for electrician at the State Home for the Feeble-minded, Trenton State Hospital, according to the Trenton State Civil Service Commission. Mr. Cox's general average was 81.1 per cent. There were 28 persons successful in passing the test.

Trenton Churches to Operate on Daylight Time Beginning Sunday; Cathedral Will Change at Noon

With the exception of St. Mary's Cathedral, the Catholic and Protestant churches will observe daylight saving at the early services Sunday morning. Monsignor John H. Fox, at the Cathedral, said today that daylight saving will not go into effect at that church until mid-day Sunday, and that the early masses will be according to standard time.

An explanation of this arrangement, Monsignor Fox said, was that he saw no reason why he should make his people get up an hour early for the early services, when these could without any trouble be held according to the old time. He explained that in the Fall, however, when the time is changed again, the masses are said according to the winter time, since the people will not have to come to service until an hour later.

No order has been issued by Bishop Walsh on the hours of service, leaving this to the individual pastors and congregations. At St. Francis, Blessed Sacrament, Immaculate Conception, Sacred Heart and St. Anthony's Catholic Churches all of the masses will be according to the daylight saving time.

The Rev. George H. Ingram, secretary of the Trenton Council of Churches, said today that as far as he knows the Protestant churches will all observe the new time.

Wouldn't Close Window, Daughter Loses Legacy

Six years ago, when her father was ill in bed, Sophie Garrunkel refused to close the windows for him, his will says, and because of that and a later delinquency on her part she is set off from his estate with a $50 legacy.

The will of Isidor Garrunkel, her father, was filed yesterday for probate. It leaves $140 to Jewish charities and the remainder to his wife, Mrs. Clara Garrunkel.

The will cites as the daughter's second offense her refusal to prepare a cup of coffee for her father one day when he felt the need of it.

The value of the estate is less than $10,000.

"Star-Spangled Banner" Is Yet Without Rival

CHICAGO, April 22.—A new national anthem, great enough to take a place beside "The Star-Spangled Banner," has not yet been found, the National Federation of Music Clubs announced last night.

A contest, in which nearly a thousand manuscripts were entered from every State in the Union, Alaska, Hawaii, England, India and France, failed to produce a melody of sufficient merit to provide music to carry the famous poem of Katherine Lee Bates, "America, the Beautiful."

Four nationally known music critics, Dr. Frank Damrosch, of New York City; Frederick S. Converse, of Boston; Felix Borowski, of Chicago, and Dean Peter K. Lutkin, of Evanston, Ill., were instructed to select a hymn only if it showed unmistakable greatness.

MOTHER AND CHILD BOTH LOSE MINDS

Grief from Loss of Six in Fire Results in Double Insanity

BROWN'S MILLS, April 22.—Her mind shattered by grief over the loss of her husband, four children and grandchild, who were burned to death when their home near here was destroyed by fire the night of March 10, Mrs. Rebecca Stevenson was removed this week to the State Home for Feeble-Minded at Vineland. She had been under treatment in the Burlington County Hospital, Mount Holly, since the fire, for burns received in vain attempts to rescue her family.

Mrs. Stevenson's daughter, Clara, 19, whose infant daughter perished in the flames, also was taken to the Vineland institution because of mental condition. She likewise had been under treatment at the County Hospital for a broken hip and other injuries received in the tragic fire.

SERVE THIS DISH FOR ONE CENT

The housewife who wants to make both ends of her food budget meet, should make more use of Cornet Rice.

Rice is the cheapest of all foods per unit of food value. It costs one cent to serve one person a rice dish containing all the elements needed to nourish the body.

If you want the most food for your money, ask for Cornet Rice. It reaches you so clean that none of the precious strength need be lost in washing.

NEW STERN STORE OPENS TOMORROW

Prominent Officials to Assist in Formal Program—Many Floral Tributes Received

When the doors of the new and elaborate Stern & Co. furniture store at North Broad and Academy Streets was thrown open for the first time to welcome the public at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning men prominent in various walks of life in Trenton and New Jersey will be present to honor the executives behind the large syndicate, operating stores in Philadelphia, Albany, Wilmington, Syracuse, Troy and other cities.

With the advent of the "Buy or Stern—Pay as You Earn" policy in Trenton, what is oftentimes referred to as the largest credit furniture establishment in the country will establish a striking record in the leading store of the city. At least a carload of floral tributes have already been received from well-wishers, and these will be displayed at tomorrow's opening, while Trentonians will be taken on an inspection tour of the establishment entertained by music furnished by an orchestra.

All the employees of the Trenton store are residents of this city. No expense has been spared in the management of the new store one that will be representative of historic Trenton and elaborate decorations have been prepared for the formal opening.

"We have felt for long time that Trenton was an ideal location for one of our chain stores," Harry I. Stern said, when interviewed today. "However, a suitable location was not immediately available so we had to wait for the opportune moment. I feel that the Trenton public is an appreciative one and I know that we will be able to give them everything they want, possibly saving them trips to Philadelphia or New York. I am particularly anxious to thank the city officials, Board of Trade, and the newspapers for their support and cooperation."

The rise of Stern & Co. in the 30 years that it has grown from a small store operation to the owners of eight stores furnishing over a million homes annually, reads like a "rags to riches" story. It was in 1897 that two young men of stamper ideals conceived the idea of a new kind of furniture store, built on a solid foundation of the Golden Rule. Instantly they opened a small store in Philadelphia, which proved a success from its inception, although there were many obstacles to overcome.

The executives declare that one of these was that most people at that time held a strong prejudice against buying on what was then known as the "installment plan." These founders of the original store are still active in the management of the large chain of stores connecting cities from Wilmington to Troy and now adding its latest link—Trenton.

The Stern & Co. friendly "Use and Pay" plan has educated the public to the benefits of a dignified way to enjoy the comforts of a well-furnished home, while paying for them a little at a time, Mr. Stern contends. "Just as the victrolas and automobiles have always been purchased on divided payments, so now it is possible to buy home furnishings and even clothing on the same convenient plan," he declared.
