

Cloudy and continued mild with occasional rain tonight through Sunday morning. Low, around 50. Clearing and turning colder Sunday afternoon. High, around 50. Partly cloudy with little temperature change Monday. Details on Page 8.

Delaware County Daily Times

There has been a lot of destruction this year at the 268 year-old Thomas Massey house on Lawrence Road. And no historian is complaining. See Page 5.

JAMES DE TULLIO ... athlete killed

Chester Athlete Is Killed

DeTulio Dies In Car Crash

EDDYSTONE — James V. (Bananas) DeTulio, 23, a popular Chester athlete, was killed Thursday when a convertible in which he was riding collided with a trailer truck on the Industrial Highway.

Injured in the collision was the driver of the car, Edward F. Dowd, 28, of 102 W. Maryland Ave., Aldan, and the truck driver, James Paley, 32, of 2432 Bethel Ave., Chester.

Dowd was reported in fair condition today in Taylor Hospital, Ridley Park, with possible internal and head injuries.

Paley was treated at Taylor Hospital for minor injuries. DeTulio, of 1322 Pulaski Drive, Chester, was employed as a dispatcher for Diamond Fuel & Ice Co., Chester.

Dowd is office manager for the company. Patrolman William J. Mattland said the collision occurred at 3:15 p.m. as Dowd attempted to make a left turn from the Industrial Highway onto Saville Avenue.

Mattland said Dowd turned in front of the truck, owned by the Blue Line Co. of Chester and Paley was unable to stop. The impact slammed the car across the street and knocked down a traffic light standard on the corner.

DeTulio was pronounced dead on arrival at the Chester Division of the Crozer-Chester Medical Center, where he was taken by Franklin Rescue Squad.

The victim was the son of James DeTulio, better known as Jim (Bananas) Weidner, a widely known Chester sports figure.

JUNIOR STAR

A lifelong Chester resident, young DeTulio became prominent in 1954 when he was a top hitter on the championship Chester East Little League team.

He later played baseball and basketball at St. James High School in Chester and played in the Delco Baseball League, Chester softball leagues and the Chester Rec Basketball League.

He was active in the Chester Central Biddy Basketball League and coached the 1963 team which won the state championship.

He also umpired in the Delco Baseball League.

SURVIVORS

Other survivors are his mother, Myrtle; his widow, the former Judith Falkie; a daughter, Lisa, 3, and a son, James Jr., 2, both at home; two sisters, Mrs. George Cameron and Mrs. Timothy Gill, both of Chester, and his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Weidner of Chester.

Solemn High Requiem Mass will be 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in Resurrection Church, 9th and Highland Sts., Chester. Burial will be in St. Peter and Paul Cemetery, Marple.

Calling hours will be Monday evening in the John L. Clancy Funeral Home, 9th and Upland Sts., Chester.

Italy's 17th Vote Fails

ROME (AP) — Parliament failed today in its 17th vote to elect a new president of Italy. Abstentions by Christian Democrats kept veteran Socialist Pietro Nenni from getting a majority.

The Christian Democrats had held a postmidnight party meeting in hopes of closing ranks behind a single candidate, but they failed.

Calvin Naylor Of Sun Oil Dies at 52

C. Calvin Naylor, 52, manager of the Sun Oil Company's Marcus Hook refinery, died early Friday after he was stricken at his home, 12 Wellesley Road, Swarthmore.

Mr. Naylor was taken to Taylor Hospital in Ridley Park, by Swarthmore police where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

He was a native of Shenandoah.

He joined Sun Oil Co. in 1934 as a chemical engineer after graduating from The Pennsylvania State University, University Park.

Mr. Naylor worked in the company's research and development department and held other research positions for 14 years.

He was named special assistant in the catalytic division at Marcus Hook in 1948 and was later transferred to the administrative division.

Mr. Naylor became superintendent of refining at Marcus Hook and in 1956 was named head of the plant.

Mr. Naylor was responsible for starting new operations at a Sun Oil Co. refinery at Sarnia, Ont., Canada.

He also organized classes for alkylation plant foremen following World War II.

He was a trustee of Swarthmore Presbyterian Church and a director of the United Fund of Chester and vicinity, the Delaware County Manufacturers Association and the Delaware County Guidance Clinic.

He also belonged to the Springhaven Club in Nether Providence, and Rolling Green Golf Club in Springfield.

Mr. Naylor is survived by his widow, the former Jean Alison Carswell of Lansdowne, and a daughter, Alison, 18, at home.

Services will be 10 a.m. Tuesday at Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. Burial will be private.

The temperature climbed to a balmy 68 degrees Friday to make it the warmest Christmas in Delaware County in Weather Bureau records.

The day, with considerable bright sunshine, was great for children who got bicycles from Santa Claus, but dismal for those who found ice skates or sleds under the Christmas tree.

And there is nothing in the immediate forecast indicating much chance to use sleds or skates.

After continued mild weather with occasional rain through Sunday morning, it is expected to clear and turn cooler. The high Sunday is expected to be around 50, the same as the expected overnight low temperature.

The Monday forecast is for partly cloudy skies with little temperature change. The temperature hit 68 degrees at noon Friday to top the 66-degree mark set in 1889, which had been the warmest Christmas in the 83 years of record keeping by the local Weather Bureau.

While it seemed wet over much of the holiday period, there actually was very little rain in the 48-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

The Weather Bureau at International Airport recorded only .01 of an inch. Daily Times gauges in Chester and Marple each recorded .06 of an inch.

Forecasters predicted the Willamette's fall would be slow. Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield said, "We're over the hump in the state as a whole, but the situation remains critical in Portland."

More than 1,200 families were evacuated in the North Portland area as the Columbia River threatened to inundate the section. Army Engineers insisted the evacuation was precautionary, but they declined to guarantee dikes along the river. More than 7,000 persons were homeless in Oregon.

Flood waters were receding in some California areas. Colder temperatures were forecast for today, promising more discomfort for about 7,000 flood refugees.

The dropping mercury was a mixed blessing. Mountain areas, especially the Sierra on the Nevada-California border refroze,

C. CALVIN NAYLOR ... Sun Oil official

He also belonged to the Springhaven Club in Nether Providence, and Rolling Green Golf Club in Springfield.

Mr. Naylor is survived by his widow, the former Jean Alison Carswell of Lansdowne, and a daughter, Alison, 18, at home.

Services will be 10 a.m. Tuesday at Swarthmore Presbyterian Church. Burial will be private.

HITS BALMY 68

Delco Christmas Is Warmest Ever

The temperature climbed to a balmy 68 degrees Friday to make it the warmest Christmas in Delaware County in Weather Bureau records.

The day, with considerable bright sunshine, was great for children who got bicycles from Santa Claus, but dismal for those who found ice skates or sleds under the Christmas tree.

And there is nothing in the immediate forecast indicating much chance to use sleds or skates.

After continued mild weather with occasional rain through Sunday morning, it is expected to clear and turn cooler. The high Sunday is expected to be around 50, the same as the expected overnight low temperature.

The Monday forecast is for partly cloudy skies with little temperature change. The temperature hit 68 degrees at noon Friday to top the 66-degree mark set in 1889, which had been the warmest Christmas in the 83 years of record keeping by the local Weather Bureau.

While it seemed wet over much of the holiday period, there actually was very little rain in the 48-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today.

The Weather Bureau at International Airport recorded only .01 of an inch. Daily Times gauges in Chester and Marple each recorded .06 of an inch.

Forecasters predicted the Willamette's fall would be slow. Oregon Gov. Mark Hatfield said, "We're over the hump in the state as a whole, but the situation remains critical in Portland."

More than 1,200 families were evacuated in the North Portland area as the Columbia River threatened to inundate the section. Army Engineers insisted the evacuation was precautionary, but they declined to guarantee dikes along the river. More than 7,000 persons were homeless in Oregon.

Flood waters were receding in some California areas. Colder temperatures were forecast for today, promising more discomfort for about 7,000 flood refugees.

The dropping mercury was a mixed blessing. Mountain areas, especially the Sierra on the Nevada-California border refroze,

Troopers Sent Into Saigon

Action Taken In Bombing

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese government ordered a battalion of paratroopers into Saigon today and extended martial law for another month to head off further trouble in the wake of the Christmas Eve bombing of a U.S. officers' hotel.

All armed forces in the capital were placed on maximum alert.

SECURITY STEPS U.S. authorities put stringent new security measures into effect. Bomb squads opened all Christmas gift packages for patients at the U.S. Navy Hospital.

Special demolition teams roamed all 67 U.S. installations in Saigon in search of terrorist bombs as a precaution against a repetition of the Brink Hotel bombing that killed two Americans and injured 68 others. Less than a dozen of the injured Americans were still hospitalized.

SMUGGLED EXPLOSIVES Lt. Col. James R. Hagen of Oklahoma City, Okla., and a civilian, David M. Agnew of Winter Park, Fla., were killed when the bomb wrecked the first three floors of the seven-story building.

Some U.S. sources charged that a general laxity of security preceded the blast, presumably the work of the Communist Viet Cong. A U.S. spokesman said the explosives were smuggled into the compound in a motor vehicle.

Buddhist leaders resumed their campaign against Premier Tran Van Huong's civilian government. They charged that the government instigated an attack Friday night against Buddhist headquarters. The attackers, armed with gasoline-filled bottles, were driven off.

The religious sect had suspended its criticism of the government since the military, led by officers called "Young Turks," dissolved the nation's provisional legislature — the High National Council, last Sunday.

REUSE TO YIELD The United States demanded restoration of civilian authority and charged that the purge amounted to "improper interference by the military." Vietnamese generals have refused to yield.

The deadlock has precipitated a crisis, with mounting hostility between the Vietnamese military and the United States. An Air Force officer reported that air force commander, Brig. Gen. Nguyen Cao Ky called U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor "a colonialist" in a bitter anti-American address to his staff four days ago.

Ky reportedly told his officers that the military high command was pressing the civilian government to demand Taylor's recall.

Ky was quoted as saying: "Taylor showed no respect for the Vietnamese generals." Ky and three other "Young Turks" called on Taylor after Sunday's purge to explain what they had done. Taylor dressed them down, and all four resigned it.

Two Indian navy vessels reached Rameswaram and rescued about 200 persons. No planes were able to land on the island because of washed out runways. The island's rail link with the Indian mainland was washed away.

Unofficial estimates in newspapers at Colombo, the capital of Ceylon, said the death toll would reach 2,000.

Ceylon air force planes dropped food to 34 Ceylonese villages isolated by high water and washed out roads.

Property damage is estimated at $150 million. U.S. Ambassador Cecil B. Lyon asked Ceylonese Premier Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike what help was most urgently needed. Britain, West Germany and Cuba also offered assistance.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

$200,000 Allotted To GCM Program

SEVEN DROWN — Divers pulled seven bodies from Lake Lanier at Cumming, Ga., after a station wagon carrying 11 persons from two families plunged down a 30-foot embankment Christmas Day. Four persons were rescued.

750 Die in Tidal Wave; Toll Might Go to 2,000

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Thousands are homeless and at least 750 persons are dead on Ceylon and the nearby island of Rameswaram, ravaged by a cyclone and 15-foot tidal wave, according to reports reaching here today.

The disaster area, off India's southeastern tip, is still virtually isolated and communication and several hours later when the disaster struck.

All that remains visible above water is six inches of the engine smokestack. Officials who flew over the island Friday said the railroad station was destroyed.

Unofficial estimates in newspapers at Colombo, the capital of Ceylon, said the death toll would reach 2,000.

Ceylon air force planes dropped food to 34 Ceylonese villages isolated by high water and washed out roads.

Property damage is estimated at $150 million. U.S. Ambassador Cecil B. Lyon asked Ceylonese Premier Mrs. Sirimavo Bandaranaike what help was most urgently needed. Britain, West Germany and Cuba also offered assistance.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

One survivor said villages on the eastern end of Rameswaram were strewn with bodies and that no food or water was available.

He said scores of fishermen were missing since the 150-mile per hour cyclone swept the island.

In Ceylon, 12 miles across the chain of tiny islands, the situation was much the same in the northern and eastern areas, which took the full brunt of the storm.

Ceylonese officials said most of their 250 estimates dead were fishermen. Many bodies were found on battered beaches in the stricken area, which is isolated by damaged roads and railways.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Damage to the port is expected to halt tea exports from Ceylon for several months.

The picturesque harbor at Trincomalee was a nightmarish scene of mangled piers, half-submerged boats and barges lying in jumbled wreckage, flattened palm trees and damaged seafront homes.

Poverty Funds Expected

To Support 8-Month Plan

CHESTER — The U. S. Office of Economic Opportunity (OEO) is expected to announce early next week a preliminary grant of about $200,000 to the Greater Chester Movement (GCM).

The grant's announcement is expected to be made by U. S. Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa).

The grant is part of a package involving a number of cities in the Johnson Administration's war on poverty.

GCM has applied for $1,535,600 in federal funds to organize and support an antipoverty program, for its first eight months.

It was understood that the preliminary grant is to be applied to GCM's community action program.

DECLINES COMMENT Dr. Clarence R. Moll, GCM chairman and president of Pennsylvania Military College, Chester, declined to comment on the report.

Mayor James H. Gorbey was unavailable for comment. GCM's overall application included $627,400 for a neighborhood youth job corps, $400,000 for a work experience program for public assistance recipients and $259,500 for the community action program.

GCM's application was announced Dec. 11. It was designed to carry GCM through Sept. 30, 1965.

Moll said at that time that the neighborhood action program is designed to take in the "whole greater Chester area."

CITY TO CONTRIBUTE He said that Chester would be expected to contribute 10 percent to the cost of any program receiving federal aid.

GCM Executive Director Nathaniel Pollster said two weeks ago that Chester's contribution would be due at the same time the federal government pays its share of the program.

There was no indication when the federal government would pay the preliminary grant.

Crossing Reenacted

WASHINGTON CROSSING, N.J. (AP) — Six modern day "revolutionaries" crossed the Delaware River on Christmas Day, in reenactment of Gen. George Washington's historic crossing in 1778.

Leading the group, dressed in military dress of the Revolutionary War, was St. John Terrell, chairman of the New Jersey Centenary Commission. He portrayed Washington, as he has done for many years in this annual event, and his son, Bart, 8, carried the 13-star Colonial flag.

Students' House Hit by Gunfire

RIPLY, Miss. (AP) — The Council of Federated Organizations reported early today shots were fired into a house where two white Oberlin college students were staying while working with other volunteers to rebuild a burned-out Negro church.

Law enforcement agencies in the Ripley area could not be contacted about the report. COFO said that one student, Dick Cooper, tried to follow the car from which the shots were fired. Cooper later was arrested.

The other student, Jerry VanKors, attempted to follow the assailants in another car. He said several shots were fired at his auto and he returned to Negro home where he had been staying.

The band of white volunteers — mostly students from Oberlin — planned to resume their work of rebuilding the Antioch Baptist church today following Christmas worship services Friday.

The church was destroyed by fire last Oct. 30 following a civil rights rally.

"The need to build comes out of evil, but the desire to rebuild comes out of love." Dave Jewell, an associate professor of Christian education at Oberlin, told the overflow crowd at the Christmas services.

Christmas season brings news of engagements. Page 10.

Cardinal O'Hara High has the county's biggest football coach. Page 16.

Complete stock market report. Pages 18, 19.

Amusements 14

Bridge 14A

Churches 12, 13

Classified Ads 20, 21

Comics 13A-15A

Community Clock 14

Death Notices 20

Editorials 6

Family Section 10

Financial News 18, 19

Horoscope 15A

Obituaries 8

Also Death Notices 20

Sports 16, 17

Television 7A-9A