

CROOKS IS SIGNED FOR OPERA WORK

Trenton Singer Will Be Heard At Metropolitan in French and Italian

Richard Crooks, American tenor, whose absence from the roster of the Metropolitan Opera Company was noted last week by Clarence Whitehill in his statement asserting that Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan, refused recognition to American artists, has been signed for a limited number of appearances in French and Italian opera next season.

An unofficial report that Mr. Crooks had been signed was confirmed by the singer's manager, Richard W. Hatten, in his statement asserting that Giulio Gatti-Casazza, general manager of the Metropolitan, refused recognition to American artists, has been signed for a limited number of appearances in French and Italian opera next season.

SCHIPA IS ENGAGED TO SUCCEED GIGLI

NEW YORK, May 19.—The Schipa, for many years leading voice with the Grand Opera Company, has been engaged to fill the vacancy in the Metropolitan Opera Company now created by the withdrawal of Beniamino Gigli.

Ends Pain at Once Quickly Removes Corns

The most famous corn treatment in the world—Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads—now double-acting! It ends every trace of pain instantly and removes the entire corn in 48 hours!

Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

Will Speak at Har Sinai's Good-will Service

Judge French Rev. Mr. Pitt Rev. Mr. Weston Rabbi Liebrich

ONE DEAD, THREE HURT IN TRAFFIC

PREHOLD, May 19.—Four persons were injured, one fatally, Tuesday afternoon when their automobiles collided on the State highway near Coll's Neck.

THIRD CHILD HURT IN AUTO MISHAP

Robert Craddock, 4 years old, of 10 Parkinson Avenue, Broad Street Park, was painfully injured yesterday when struck by an automobile at Cedar Lane and Chambers Street.

Young Craddock is said by Helen R. Carter, of 44 Park Avenue, Bordentown, the driver, to have darted from the curb into the side of the automobile.

JUNE 2 CIRCUS DAY; SELLS-FLOTO COMING

June 2 will be Circus Day in Trenton. There is no doubt about it this time.

HANGS HIMSELF

LAKWOOD, N. J., May 19.—William Frederick Becker, 72, who lived on his son's farm near here, was found hanging from a tree in the garage by his grandchildren.

BACKACHE?

Stinging massages getting up nights backache—rubbed by Santal Midy when due to kidney trouble, breaks the cause of the trouble.

SANTAL MIDY

GOOD-WILL AS SERVICE THEME

Representatives of Various Religious Denominations Will Speak Tomorrow Night

Representatives of various religious denominations will speak tomorrow night at the Good-Will Service in Har Sinai Temple, Bellevue Avenue, at 8 o'clock.

Dr. Robert Weston of the First Unitarian Church, will speak on the subject of "The Need of Good-Will Today."

Children to Be Guests of Club

Arrangements have been completed by the Woodrow Wilson Democratic Club for the entertaining of between 400 and 500 children between the ages of 8 and 13 years Saturday at Cadwalader Park.

At the Hotels, Clubs

Members of the James Moore Parent-Teacher Association will dine tonight at Longacre Country Club.

Members of the Trenton Automobile Trade Association will participate in a luncheon meeting tomorrow at the Cartier Club.

CIVIL EMPLOYEES TO PICK OFFICERS

Officers of the reorganized Mercer County Council of the New Jersey

Civil Service Association will be named at a meeting of the body tonight at the Soldiers and Sailors War Memorial Building.

KERSHAW TO SING AT BORDENTOWN

Charles V. Kershaw, Negro singer, will appear tomorrow afternoon at the Bordentown High School assembly.

PACK ARBORETUM GIVEN TO STATE

Native Trees and Shrubs Used for Display at Crossing Park

Arthur Newton Pack, of Princeton, on behalf of his father, Charles Lathrop Pack, of Washington, D. C., and Lakewood, president of the American Tree Association, and himself, today presented to the people of New Jersey an arboretum of 1,000 trees and 1,500 shrubs native to the State.

EMONIES, while several hundred persons including representatives of patriotic societies, women's clubs, garden clubs, and pupils of schools of this section of New Jersey and Pennsylvania were assembling, Winkler's Band, under the direction of Martin Mayer, gave a concert of patriotic music.

TRENTONIAN TO BE ORDAINED SUNDAY

The Rev. William Ryland Downing Turkington, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. D. Turkington, 231 Highland Avenue, will be ordained to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church Sunday.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

PUBLIC SALE Starts FRI. Morn. MAY 20th

SHOUTING A MESSAGE OF AN ASTOUNDING AND UNEXPECTED EVENT THAT WILL LITERALLY ROCK THE ENTIRE CITY AND NEARBY TOWNS

Thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of standard merchandise such as Men's Furnishings, Work Clothes, Shoes, Camping Outfits, Men's and Ladies' Riding Outfits, etc. In fact, all the merchandise in the store, stock rooms included, to go without reservation.

ENTIRE STOCK—FIXTURES & OFFICE EQUIPMENT R-E-L-E-A-S-E-D BY THE U. S. DISTRICT COURT AND IS TO BE LET LOOSE TO THE GENERAL BUYING PUBLIC AT A GREAT LOSS, IN ORDER TO SATISFY THE DEMANDS OF THE CREDITORS.

TRENTON ARMY & NAVY

THE STORE LOCATED AT 105 N. BROAD STREET

FAILED

Bankrupt Sale

STORE OPEN EVENINGS

865 of These Athletic SHIRTS AND SHORTS

Every imaginable color, all sizes. To go at this low price. Each 12c

BANKRUPT STOCK SALE BOYS' SNEAKS

Heavy soles, with leather patches. Come take them away at, Pair 29c

490 Pairs of Men's Famous Beacon White Feet and IRON SOCKS

Plain colors. All sizes. Pair 10c

185 Pairs Men's Cloth and Khaki PANTS

Bankrupt Price, Pair 48c

OVER 1,000 PAIRS OF MEN'S SOCKS

Three different plain colors. All sizes. Pair 3c

CLOSING OUT! 139 Dozens Men's Athletic Style High Grade Natssock

UNION SUITS 28c

Now

PACK ARBORETUM GIVEN TO STATE

Native Trees and Shrubs Used for Display at Crossing Park

Arthur Newton Pack, of Princeton, on behalf of his father, Charles Lathrop Pack, of Washington, D. C., and Lakewood, president of the American Tree Association, and himself, today presented to the people of New Jersey an arboretum of 1,000 trees and 1,500 shrubs native to the State.

EMONIES, while several hundred persons including representatives of patriotic societies, women's clubs, garden clubs, and pupils of schools of this section of New Jersey and Pennsylvania were assembling, Winkler's Band, under the direction of Martin Mayer, gave a concert of patriotic music.

TRENTONIAN TO BE ORDAINED SUNDAY

The Rev. William Ryland Downing Turkington, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. D. Turkington, 231 Highland Avenue, will be ordained to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church Sunday.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

PUBLIC SALE Starts FRI. Morn. MAY 20th

SHOUTING A MESSAGE OF AN ASTOUNDING AND UNEXPECTED EVENT THAT WILL LITERALLY ROCK THE ENTIRE CITY AND NEARBY TOWNS

Thousands upon thousands of dollars worth of standard merchandise such as Men's Furnishings, Work Clothes, Shoes, Camping Outfits, Men's and Ladies' Riding Outfits, etc. In fact, all the merchandise in the store, stock rooms included, to go without reservation.

BANKRUPT STOCK SALE DRESS TROUSERS

All sizes, dark and light shades. Over 40 patterns to choose from. Bankrupt Price, Pair 97c

26 DOZEN OF MEN'S BLUE CHAMBRAY WORK SHIRTS

Full cut sizes, fast colors. Made by Home Manufacturing Company 39c

50c MEN'S BALBRIGGAN SHIRTS AND DRAWERS

With satin facing. All sizes. Garment 25c

72 PAIRS OF MEN'S $1.95 FAMOUS LEE UNION-ALLS

Strongly made with plenty of pockets. Garment 97c

OUT THEY GO! BOYS' WHITE DUCK PANTS

Big bargain for the early shopper at, pair 50c

$12.50 Ladies' Genuine Leather RIDING BOOTS

During this Bankrupt Sale at 6.85

$5.50 Ladies' and Men's RIDING BREECHES

With leather trim. Now 2.37

84 Dozen Men's Dress Shirts

Made of fine quality broadcloth in tan, green, blue and white. All sizes. Each 39c

Men's Reg. $2.95 All-Wool Sweaters

Newest styles, choice of colors. All sizes. $1.19

Men's Silk Ties

Big selection of patterns and colors. Take them away at 10c

Hundreds of Pairs Men's Dress Socks

Wide selection of patterns and colors. Complete sizes. Pair 9c

38 Doz. Men's 'Sealpa' and other Nationally Known Makes

Union Suits Now 48c

Regular $2 Heavy Aluminum Palco Ganteens Now 95c

Take advantage

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Hoeller, president of the State Department of Conservation and Development, and Dr. Henry B. Kummel, director, presided.

Charles Lathrop Pack, 75 years old, was unable to come to Trenton today to attend the ceremonies.

Five years ago he conceived the idea of making this gift to the State and since then he has had the native trees and shrubs assembled and planted at the park. Mr. Pack, it will be recalled, was originator of the commemorative

tree planting project for the Washington, D. C. arboretum contains between 50 and 60 varieties of trees and shrubs which are to be labeled so that they may be quickly identified. In ten years time the arboretum will be one of the most beautiful parks in the State, and a splendid laboratory for study of tree life.

Obligated to hasten away to keep another engagement, Governor Moore spoke at the beginning of the ceremonies, expressing the State's appreciation for the noble gift.

The presentation was made by Mr. Pack and the big field stone bearing the plain bronze memorial plaque was unveiled by his two oldest children, Eleanor, eight years old, and Vernon, six.

C. P. Wilber, State forester and chief of the division of forests and parks and Dr. Charles H. Elliott, State Commissioner of Education, spoke on behalf of the State.

Colonel Henry L. Ho