

Open Air Theatre Begins Season

The Open Air Theatre in Washington Crossing State Park opens its seventh season this month with an array of productions from musical comedies to operas to Shakespearean drama.

The season's first production is the Pennington Players' "Milk and Honey." A musical comedy set in Israel, it runs June 28, 27 and July 3 and 4, and is directed by Anthony Petito. "Rigoletto," the next production, is staged by the Princeton Opera Association and directed by Igor Chagov on July 10, 11 and July 17, 18.

Herb Schapiro, co-author of "The Me Nobody Knows," an off-Broadway hit, directs the "Stage Two" Company in Gilbert and Sullivan's "Patience," running July 24, 25, 31 and August 1. The Shakespeare '70 Company presents "Hamlet" on August 6, 7, and 8, directed by Gerald Guarneri. "Man of La Mancha" is to be staged by the Olde Town Players and directed by Wayne Carter on August 13, 14 and 15. A rock musical based on Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night,"

"Your Own Thing," runs August 21, 22, 28 and 29. The season will end with "The Mikado," Gilbert and Sullvan's Japanese musical on September 4, 5, 6 and 7, performed by students from Westminster Choir College.

12-Hour Be-In Sunday

Trenton will have its first "mini-Woodstock" today — if the weather cooperates.

Three area rock groups, Jacobs Creek, St. Anthony's Fire and Edison Electric Band head the bill at the area's first marathon "Be-In" at the Open Air Theater in Washington Crossing State Park (N.J.)

The twelve free hours of continuous music from noon to midnight will be produced by Robin Garb, manager of Jacobs Creek.

Other bands scheduled to play include Elizabeth, Sweet Stavin' Chain, Valentine, Pitt and Smooth Dog. Single artists featured are Dave Bromberg, Buzzy Linhart, Linda Cohen, Michael Schuster and Maury Muehnsen.

Double Bill At Bucks

A theatrical first will occur at the Bucks County Playhouse this week when two successful Broadway musicals, "The Roar of the Greasepaint and "Stop the World," are presented back to back.

Both musicals will play evenings at 8:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday, with matinees Wednesday and Saturday at 2 p.m.
