

Father Dominic With His Successors

The Very Rev. Dominic Rapp, second from left, is pictured with the three priests who will take over his duties at the Immaculate Conception Church and Trenton Catholic Boys' High School next week. Father Dominic has been transferred to Albany, N. Y. At left is the Rev. Egbert Manny, who will succeed him as superior of the more than 30 Franciscan priests at the church and high school. At Father Dominic's left is the Rev. Jerome Dukette, the new principal of Trenton Catholic High, while at extreme right is the Rev. Joachim Dunn, who will become pastor of the Immaculate Conception Church.

Former Classmates Involved In Immaculate Parish Changes

Father Joachim, New Pastor, and Father Egbert, Superior, Served Novitiate With Father Dominic, Who Is Leaving Trenton

Three former classmates are involved in the changes in administration which will take place next week in the Immaculate Conception Church and Trenton Catholic Boys High School. The Rev. Joachim Dunn, OFM, Con., who will become pastor of the church, and the Rev. Egbert Manny, OFM, Conv., the new superior of the community of more than 30 priests at the church and high school, were in the same class with the Very Rev. Dominic Rapp, OFM, Conv., their predecessor in the two posts, during their novitiate at Syracuse in 1925 and 1926. Father Dominic has been transferred to Albany, N. Y., where he will become pastor of Our Lady of Angels Church. He has been pastor of the church here for the past three years, superior of the work at the Catholic University of America before coming here in 1936, with Father Joachim, to join the high school staff. He taught English in the school until 1945 when he was named vice principal. Father Jerome has been in charge of the school paper for 12 years and of the school year book for eight years. Father Egbert, the new superior, was born in Troy, N. Y., and completed his early studies for the priesthood in Canada. Following his ordination May 31, 1931, he was assigned as assistant prefect at the Staten Island preparatory seminary of the Franciscan Order. In 1936 he was made prefect. He came to Trenton Catholic High in 1939, and since then has been supervisor of music and instructor in French and religion.

Enrollment at Trenton Catholic High is expected to be over 800 this year and may surpass the record high of 813 students who were registered at the school at the start of the 1946-47 term. Registration last September totaled 783. The Rev. Jerome Dukette, MA, STL, will succeed Father Dominic as high school principal. He has been vice principal of the school for the past three years. Father Joachim, the new pastor, is a native of Roxbury, Mass. He was ordained to the priesthood in Albany June 14, 1930. His first assignment was as assistant novice master at the Church of the Assumption in Syracuse, and in 1935 he became assistant cleric master to the Rev. Francis Edio at Rensselaer, N. Y. Father Francis is now provincial of the province. In 1936 Father Joachim came to Trenton as a member of the first faculty of Trenton Catholic High. He taught music and religion. The following year he became registrar, the position he has held ever since. Until three years ago he was also prefect of discipline at the school. Father Jerome, the new high school principal, was born in Utica, N. Y., and was ordained June 10, 1933, in Albany. He completed three years of graduate

$3,500,000 To Finance Cancer Fight

NEW YORK —AP— The American Cancer Society plans to spend more than $3,500,000 during the coming year in financing cancer research.

The money will go to scientists and institutions throughout the United States.

In announcing the plans, Douglas Poteat, executive vice president of the society, said "research is producing more leads than at any time in history" toward finding a cure for the disease.

"It is impossible to predict when we will beat cancer," he added, "but there is a definite feeling that we are getting there."

The society has awarded 201 individual grants and 46 fellowships totaling $2,081,510 to research scientists in 86 hospitals, laboratories and universities throughout the United States.

It also awarded 18 institutional grants totaling $1,052,438 directly to colleges and hospitals "to be used on research projects promising in nature and in urgent need of funds."

Additional grants to be made later will bring the total society funds to be spent on research in the year beginning September 1 to more than $3,500,000.

Poteat said the cancer campaign, which has three weeks to go, has raised $12,600,000 this year compared with $12,126,875 in 1947.

He said the society's efforts to convince people that early cancer can be cured apparently are proving successful.

"Doctors throughout the country tell me that patients are being treated earlier than they used to—early enough, in many cases, to be cured of their cancers," Poteat said.

Polite Havana Bank Robbers Get $562,000

HAVANA, Cuba —AP— Cuban police today sought a polite band of robbers who strolled into a downtown Havana bank yesterday and snatched out again with $562,000 in cash.

All airports, ships and trains are being watched for the smooth-working, bandits who herded 18 persons into a rear room of a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada just after the 3 p.m. closing time, then looted the bank's vault and cashier's cage without being molested.

The robbery was executed by eight or ten men led by one dressed in a policeman's uniform. Although they were armed with pistols and machineguns not a shot was fired. A group entered the bank, the uniformed leader politely told the door guard in Spanish:

"These gentlemen are coming in with me—and so are you. Kindly take a place right behind me, and don't try to draw your gun or the gentleman behind me will shoot you full of holes."

They then ordered branch manager Esteban Juncadella, 13 other employees, a bank guard and three customers into the rear room. Several of the gang escorted the manager into the vault. One warned him:

"Don't be nervous, but don't try any funny business either or we'll kill you."

Juncadella said he did not recognize any of the bandits.

The manager said a preliminary check indicated the thieves took a total of $562,000 in U. S. dollars and Cuban pesos. The peso has the same value as the dollar. He said $365,000 was taken from the vault and the balance from the cashier's window. All of it was in bills of $100, $500 and $1,000 denomination, both Cuban and American.

A bank spokesman said the entire loss was covered by insurance. Police said the bank had no alarm system.

New Compounds Found To Prevent Sunburn

SAN FRANCISCO—AP—Chemicals which theoretically are eight times as effective in preventing sunburn as those now commonly used were reported to the American Pharmaceutical Association today.

These compounds stop the sunburn rays in solar radiation much as black paper stops ordinary light. Apparently they do not interfere with the rays which cause tanning without burning and do not stop the visible rays.

They do not change the color of the skin and do not wear off or break down easily. In theory they should give protection for several hours.

First description of undulant fever as a distinct disease was made in 1859.

Legion's Safety Essay Winners Are Announced

Ralph E. Goodwin Jr., of Vineland took first place among more than 90,000 New Jersey school children in the New Jersey American Legion's annual safety essay contest, it was announced yesterday.

Byron R. Christie of Garfield, chairman of the Legion's safety committee, said a $100 savings bond will go to Goodwin.

The contestants, representing 550 legion posts, submitted 400-word essays on safety in the home, school and on the street.

Evelyn Szilagi, Holy Trinity School, Passaic, took second place honors and will receive a $50 bond. Theresa M. Geargir, Sacred Heart School, Vineland, won the third prize, a $25 bond.

Fourth to seventh place honors went to the following students, who will receive special citations: Hazel A. Donadio, Newton; Mildred Obradovich, Weehawken; Mary J. Cahill, Ridgefield Park, and Marguerita Robinsky, Old Bridge.

Students from sixth to ninth grades took part in the contest, with over $2,000 given to the winners by Legion posts and county committees.

The essays were judged by a special committee headed by Colonel Charles H. Schoeffel, superintendent of State Police, assisted by Dr. Alfred Flury and William H. Wythos of the State Department of Education.

The first seven participants will have their awards presented to them at the Legion State convention in Asbury Park in September.

Mercer Goes Over Top In Bond Buying

James Ringold, president of the First Mechanics National Bank and Mercer County chairman of the Security Loan campaign, announced today county sales during the 10-week drive went over the top. They totaled $6,100,000 against a quota of $5,500,000.

In the State, sales reached $92,080,000, 8.6 percent above the $84,000,000 quota. The State report was made by Eimer H. Bobst of Montclair, State chairman.

New Jersey was rated eighth among all States in the response to the bond sales appeal and in enlisting employees in business and industry in regular purchase plans through payroll deductions.

Bobst commented Ringold for the excellent showing made in Mercer County. In the State, he said campaign workers "did a splendid job." County, municipal and business committees worked quietly in lining up groups of purchasers.

Another buying campaign will be held throughout the country from November 11 to December 11, it was announced by Vernon L. Clark, national director of bond activities in the Treasury Department. Emphasis will be placed, he said, on obtaining new "payroll savings customers."

Marine Good Conduct Insignia Is Available

Issuance of Marine Corps Good Conduct Insignia has been started, the Marine office at the Court House announced today.

The medals are individually printed with the recipient's name. They being awarded from information taken from the application blanks already filled in by Marines and former Marines in connection with issuance of the American Defense Service and Victory Medals. They will be forwarded to those on active and inactive duty as well as to discharges, it was added.

In order to avoid duplication of awards, applications for the medal or bar, or requests concerning them, should not be referred to Marine Corps Headquarters in Washington. Replies will not be made to such inquiries.

High Price of Charcoal Doesn't Discourage Steak and Doggie Roasts At Washington Park

The high price of charcoal for steak and doggie roasts seems to be no discouragement at all to outings and family parties at Washington Crossing Park.

The number of visitors keeps increasing year to year. The only thing that holds them back is rain.

The inflation in the price of charcoal has been terrific, but charcoal is considered by experts to be the best thing for making a steak, hamburger or a hot dog taste just right.

Tom Haigh, chief of parks in the State Conservation Department, recalled today that charcoal for the fireplaces was supplied to amateur chefs at Washington Crossing Park in 1936 for 10 cents the five-pound bag. The State's profit after handling expense was negligible since the bags cost a fraction over eight cents.

The charcoal quotation at the park today was 25 cents on a wholesale cost of slightly more than 21 cents. In commercial food places nearby, picnicers and chairmen of outing committees think nothing of paying 30 cents. They're thinking how good those nicely-browned hamburgers with the juicy, red interior are going to taste and price is no object.

Washington Crossing Park, much smaller than High Point Park at the top of the State, surpasses all other State parks except High Point, in drawing visitors. It leads State parks in nationwide attraction—license plates from almost every State every year; site of one of the greatest events of world history. Cold statistics show visitors at Washington Crossing in the past year from July 1, 1947, to June 30, 1948, totaled 217,905. In the previous 12 months the total was 187,784. At High Point for the past 12 months it was 317,165 and for the year before, 223,544.

There was a slight slump this June, 26,288, as against 28,602 in the previous year. The rain, no doubt.

Realty Board Seeks Change In Race Rule

LOS ANGELES —AP— The Los Angeles Realty Board is launching a campaign to amend the United States constitution so occupancy of real property can be restricted to either Caucasians or Negroes.

Philip M. Rea, president of the board, said the National Association of Real Estate Boards will be asked to aid in the campaign.

An amendment is necessary, Rea said yesterday, "to protect American family life, stabilize home values, avoid widespread home depreciation, avert racial tensions and to safeguard the rights of families who own comparatively small and modest homes."

The movement gained impetus after King Cole, prominent Negro musician bought a $65,000 home in an exclusive Los Angeles residential district last week.

The United States Supreme Court ruled recently that restrictions against occupancy of real property by Negroes cannot be enforced by the courts.

Rea said the proposed amendment would empower State and Federal courts to enforce deeds and contracts "restricting ownership or occupancy of real property to either Caucasians or Negroes, as the case may be."

Horses were domesticated in Babylonia about 3500 B. C., according to archeologists.

"Today's working girl has no bed of roses"

Jane Phillips, Manager Business Women's Dept.

THERE'S ONE THING we business women have in common and that's the shopping problem. Working from 9-5 and trying to squeeze our shopping in on our lunch hour is no fun.

Because my company recognizes this problem, we've started a special "Lunch Hour" service here for business women. You can arrange for a loan for vacation needs, dental expenses, etc. from 12-1 or 1-2. And still have time for a quick sandwich.

You get the money you want just on your signature. And, of course, your employer or relatives are not notified.

If you can use extra cash now and want to make the arrangements during your lunch hour, phone me... or just drop in to see me. I'll be glad to take care of you personally.
