Leveling Off of Prices Asked By New Jersey Grange Chief; State Picnic Held At Crossing

State Grange Master Franklin C. Nixon called for a "leveling-off of prices to enable farmers to attract farm help" at the State-wide Grange picnic sponsored at Washington Crossing State Park yesterday by Mercer County Pomona Grange.

Approximately 1,150 Grangers attended the picnic held in conjunction with the Mercer County 4-H show. The 4-H demonstrations began yesterday morning and continued throughout the day.

Wheeler McMillen of Hopewell, editor of the Farm Journal, lauded the Grange last night as one national group which had never sought special favor in Washington. He said it was a bright example to other pressure groups in the nation's capital.

Nixon and McMillen shared the speakers platform with Congressman Frank A. Matthews Jr., State Lecturer John V. Conover, State Chaplain Z. Leroy Skillman of Hopewell, William S. Duncan, master of Mercer Pomona Grange and Clifford A. Tindall of Morrisville, master of ceremonies.

4-H Show Resumed
Yesterday's affair marked the first time the 4-H show had been held since before the war and the first time the grange picnic had been held in the last 20 years.

Prizes for Grangers traveling the greatest distance and the Grange having the highest percentage of membership present will be announced later according to Tindall.

Mrs. Roland Wentzel of Cape Town, South Africa, a guest of the McMillens was mentioned as a competitor for the prize.

District 1, comprising the Titusville, Pennington, Mercer and Lawrenceville Granges defeated the Hamilton, Windsor, Dayton, Hightstown and Allentown Granges in the evening baseball game. Lawrenceville Grange won at quoits.

Miss Jean Schuster of Pennington Road and Miss Marion Fournier took honors in the 4-H county dress revue in Sullivan's Grove. Miss Schuster was given an "excellent" award for a tailored suit which she unhesitatingly labeled as "Pop's old suit."

An entry of Woody and Patricia Goeringer in the baby beef contest was judged "good" in the Angus division.

Members of the Hillbilly Chix and Lakeside Park 4-H Clubs won "excellent" awards for their entries in the poultry division. They were Edgar Paul, Albert Burd, Robert Mezaros, Wayne Hansen, Stanley and Harry Opdyke and Alfred Woodson of the Hillbilly Chix and Leonard Paglione and Fred Wood of Lakeside Park.

In the vegetables and flowers division Joseph and Raymond Leannhardt of Four-Leaf Club, George Goldy of Lakeside Park, Virginia Hulick and Jean Mara of

Pepper Urges Marshall Plan Include Soviet

WASHINGTON —AP— Senator Pepper, Florida Democrat, yesterday called the Marshall plan for rebuilding Europe "too narrow" and proposed that it be broadened to take in "every nation in the world that needs help," including Russia.

The Senator, who reported that he had discussed his foreign policy views with President Truman in a White House visit earlier, told a news conference he doesn't believe "we should exclude economic aid in those political areas we don't like."

In an accompanying statement, Pepper asserted that the Republican-dominated Congress "has made reaction in domestic policy the most potent force shaping our foreign policy."

In an arraignment of the nation's international program, he declared that "we have laid down insupportable conditions for economic aid, conditions which are sowing distrust even among those nations we do offer aid."

In response to questions he said that he and President Truman had gone over foreign policies "in an exploratory way." Pepper voted against Truman's proposal to extend $400,000,000 in economic and military aid to Greece and Turkey in the last session of Congress and has criticized the Administration's stiffened attitude toward Russia.

"The President and I are both clear in the objective that we want peace," the Florida Senator declared. "Sometimes we have been striving in separate ways for it and sometimes together."

Pepper previously had predicted Truman's renomination and reelection. He said their differences over foreign policy matters need not disturb their relations as members of the Democratic Party, although he added that he and Henry A. Wallace agree "on a great many things." Wallace has indicated he will not support Truman for reelection.

The Florida Senator announced that he is "in favor" of the Marshall plan and will vote for it when it comes before Congress. Nevertheless, he complained that it is "too narrow."

"The economy of the world is one," he told reporters. "It makes no difference where political and geographic lines are drawn. I'm in favor of the Marshall plan and am going to support it, but I am just as much in favor of a Marshall plan for the Balkans, the Middle East, Asia and other parts of the world."

The Marshall plan, as set forth by Secretary of State Marshall, calls for European countries to see how much they can help themselves, this to be supplemented by financial aid from the U. S.

80,000 New Homes Started In July For 20-Year Record

WASHINGTON —AP— The Government reported yesterday that new home construction during July bettered 20-year records, while realtors declared fears that dropping of Federal building controls would curtail home building "are not materializing."

"Instead," said the National Association of Real Estate Boards, in a statement, "the rate of home production is going up."

The association reported that "the general tendency of sales volume and prices (during July) was to hold steady at a high level. It said prices were firm in Cincinnati, Los Angeles, Denver, Phoenix and Tulsa.

It said prices and sales were both up in Detroit, whereas the trend was to hold to June levels in Dallas, Savannah, Pittsburgh and Kansas City.

"The Seattle market, which may be oversupplied with new houses within a year, reflects buyer resistance," the association reported.

The Federal Bureau of Labor Statistics reported private contractors started 80,000 new homes in July, an increase of 28,000 over June and 17,000 over July, 1946.

While omitting a comparable figure, the bureau said the July level was the highest in 20 years and was close to the record peak in 1925. It said, also, that 65,700 permanent homes were finished last month, or 2,700 more than in June.

The bureau said $421,000,000 was spent on new homes last month — up $33,000,000 over June and $65,000,000 over a year ago.

And in the first seven months of the year, the statisticians said, people invested around $2,500,000,000 in new homes, against about $1,500,000,000 in the same period of 1946.

Arnett Rules Private Feuds Out of Chest

George W. Arnett, president of the Trenton Community Chest and Council, released the following statement to the Times-Advertiser last night.

"Recent efforts to embroil the Community Chest in matters of personal controversies prompt me to say that the Community Chest has never been, and will never permit itself to be, a party to such activities.

"Every one should know that the Community Chest is a large group of people from all walks of life who get together to do a job for the entire community without regard to race, religion, politics, labor attitude or anything else. Whether these people agree or disagree on all other matters, and even whether they like each other or not, makes no difference when they get together under the banner of the Community Chest to see that our community does the right thing for the sick and unfortunate, the aged and youth.

"The Community Chest will not permit anyone to attempt to make it an arena for the settlement of private disputes and will continue to offer the people of Trenton the best means of seeing to it that our city has everything a good city should have in the way of hospitals, welfare agencies, recreational and character building groups."
