

THE HOPEWELL HERALD

VOLUME FIFTY-TWO.

HOPEWELL, N. J., WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8, 1927.

No. 31.

CONDENSED PARAGRAPHS

Mrs. Carikuff will entertain the Sewing Circle of the M. E. church on Thursday (tomorrow) afternoon, in the Sunday school room. MRS. J. A. VANDERMARK, Sec'y. The regular meeting of the Hopewell Parent-Teacher association will be held in the grammar school auditorium on Tuesday afternoon, June 14, at 3.45. A full attendance is requested as this is the final meeting of the year. A new but very effective way of preserving furnaces during the summer months is to first clean them of all coal and ashes and then put in about a bushel of unslacked lime in the fire box. The lime will prevent rusting. This method has been tried and has proven quite satisfactory. Mercer Grange will meet Friday evening, June 10th, at 8 o'clock, daylight-saving time. The literary program will consist of songs and recitations in honor of the 150th anniversary of the American flag.

Mrs. F. K. Forsythe, of Broad street, is ill and confidant to her home. A meeting of the Y. P. B. will be held at the home of Miss Elsie Brown, on Monday evening, June 13, at 7:00 o'clock. The 8-11 Bridge Club met Thursday last at the home of Miss Mary Emma and Miss Gladys Titus, on Broad street. A meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hopewell Fire Department will be held on Tuesday evening, June 14, at 7.45, in Columbia Hall. Everyone is urged to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Israel Temple and daughter Miss Ethel, of Princeton, and Jacob Snyder, of Dunellen, are expected guests during the next few days of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hallinger, on Front street. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Young, of Rocky Hill, are the proud parents of a baby boy born on Sunday. Mother and baby are doing well. Mrs. Young before her marriage was Miss Anne May Morrell and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Morrell, of Lafayette street.

Pleasant Valley Calf Club Has Interesting Meeting At the last regular meeting of the Pleasant Valley Calf Club, a very interesting talk was given on, "The Value of Education to the Farmer." This talk was given by Mr. Cleveland, agriculture teacher at the Lambertville high school. There was also a talk given on "Live Stock Insurance." Reports were given by Marie Cox, Lester Fellar and Clarence Drake on their animals. At the April meeting a debate took place. Alfred Woodson, who is chairman of the program committee, acted as chairman. The question debated was, "Resolved, That a Calf Club Member Should Start With a Cow Rather Than a Calf." Elmer Atchley and Evelyn Woodson took the affirmative side, and George Woodson, Marie Cox and Sarah Atchley the negative. The affirmative side won. The judges were: Jesse Atchley, Mrs. Edwin Brady and Augustus Hunt.

The next meeting will be held on June 23rd, at the Woodson's farm. A demonstration on mixing and using of government whitewash will take place and also an exhibition on judging for the benefit of the younger members of the club. Plans for the fair are progressing rapidly. August 10th is the date set for this annual event. The fair is being held one day this year instead of two days. Elmer Atchley has been elected chairman and E. J. Perry, state dairy specialist, has kindly consented to judge the cattle. Plans for the supper have not yet been completed. There will be dancing on an outside platform with good music.

Hopewell Club Increases Membership The membership of the Hopewell Junior Dairy Club has been increased from six to fifteen members during the year and expects to gain enough to make twenty in the next few months. The June meeting of the club was held June 3rd, at the home of Andrew Sheppard. The club discussed holding a local show and decided upon the date of August 31st. The place of holding the show was not chosen. A judging program is being given at each meeting and it is hoped to have a good judging team by the time of the Trenton Fair. Thirty-eight were present at this meeting. The next meeting will be held on July 1st, at the home of the local leader, Albert Vannoy.

NOTICE! The thirty-third annual conference of the New Jersey Children's Home Society will be held at the receiving home in Trenton, on Thursday, June 9, 1927. The morning session will begin at 10.30 o'clock, daylight-saving time. Reports of the officers for the year will be read. There will also be election of twelve members to the State Board of Managers to serve for three years. The afternoon meeting will be at 2 o'clock when the new receiving home will be dedicated free of debt. The Honorable A. Harry Moore, Governor of New Jersey, will deliver the address.

Two Machines Collide Near Marshall's Corner Two cars driven by Edwin Meyer and Frank Storken, both of this place, collided Monday evening near the Marshall's Corner schoolhouse. Fortunately none of the occupants of either car sustained injuries. Both machines were damaged to quite an extent. One front wheel on each car had to be replaced with new ones as also did the running boards and fenders.

MANY ATTEND HISTORICAL MEETING

LOCAL AND OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE GUESTS OF SONS OF REVOLUTION AT SESSION AND LUNCHEON HERE

GRAVES OF FAMOUS MEN DECORATED

Although inclement weather necessitated the elimination of an elaborate outdoor program at the dedication of the State Park at Washington Crossing on Saturday in which the Society of Sons of the Revolution in the State of New Jersey was to play a prominent part, it in no way interfered with the organization's visit to Hopewell in the morning. Success attended every particular of the meeting held in the Old School Baptist meeting house and the luncheon that followed. At around 11 o'clock members of the Sons of the Revolution began to gather around the front of the Old School Baptist meeting house and were soon engaged in the business of reading the inscriptions on the monuments of a century ago or more. The monument to the Signer of the Declaration of Independence, and the slab on which Job Houghton stood on that memorable occasion when after his stirring speech every man who heard him promised to go with him to Boston to help repel the "red coats," seemed to excite their greatest interest. At 11.30 the president of the society, Newton Albert Kendall Bugbee, called the members to order and told of the purpose of the Sons of the Revolution, to place permanent bronze markers on the graves of the revolutionary soldiers lying in the cemetery, and the first grave to be so marked was that of John Hart. It had by this time commenced to drizzle and umbrellas were called into commission and the markers were placed on eight graves with several still to be so marked at another time, markers being left for that purpose. The Board of Managers held a meeting at which a number of applications for membership were passed and other matters of routine business attended to.

All the graves in the cemetery were visited and a beautiful and delicious dinner, mistakenly called luncheon, was served by the ladies of the Welfare League to about ninety members and guests, who just passed a moment as they entered the dining room to pledge themselves anew to sustain the principles their forefathers fought for in 1776. At the close of the dinner President Bugbee, in a delightful manner, thanked the ladies of the Welfare League for their wonderful repast, and then all departed for Washington Crossing, where the exercises were about to commence, but against which Jupiter Pluvius had already interfered to a serious degree. The exercises at the Crossing were held in the Log Cabin dance hall where a large audience listened to the speeches given by prominent officials. Major General William Welgel, of New Brunswick, was the principal speaker, and in the absence of Governor Moore, who was unable to attend the ceremonies, Attorney General Katzenbach received the park on behalf of the State at large. Howard F. McConnell, of Montclair, president of the State Board of Conservation and Development, made the presentation speech. During the addresses, a number of Revolutionary standards were massed, together with the American colors before the rostrum. A program of martial and patriotic airs was given by the band and the day's celebration, which started at Hopewell, was fittingly brought to a close.

Visits Sister After Absence of Forty-Four Years James McLaughlin sailed Saturday morning last, at 11.30, from New York City on the R. M. S. Cedric, bound for Ireland, where he will spend some time with his sister, Mrs. Mary Keane, Mrs. Keane, who lives on a large farm, is 65 years old and has not seen her brother for 44 years. Mr. McLaughlin will return to his home about July 2nd. Since leaving Hopewell word has been received from him saying that he is one of 1,700 passengers on a great ship. Mr. McLaughlin professed a strong love for Hopewell before his departure and renewed this in his latest communication. Although Ireland is his native land he loves this country and its people.

Club News The Roundabout Club had an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. P. O. Voorhees last Friday afternoon. A short business meeting was held after which Mrs. Farvin Stryker led the discussion, "Why take a vacation." Many very good reasons for taking a vacation were given and some very entertaining experiences related. The next meeting of the club will be on Friday, June 17th, when the club will make a pilgrimage to the Historic Old Barracks, in Trenton.

TALL CEDARS PARADE TONIGHT

TWO HUNDRED VISITING MEMBERS AND LARGE CLASS OF SAPPLINGS TO MARCH

RANGERS WILL FEATURE OCCASION

Broad street tonight between 7.30 and 8.30 will be the scene of the greatest demonstration ever to have been held in Hopewell when the Trenton Forest, Mr. J. T. Cedars of Lebanon, together with the local members and an exceedingly large class of sapplings take part in a street parade. The parade will precede the regular session and initiation of the sapplings to be held immediately afterward in the new factory building of the H. A. Smith Manufacturing Company. One of the great sights ever to be seen here will be the drill of the Rangers in front of the bank building. The parade will form on Hamilton avenue and proceed west on Broad street to the end and upon its return the Rangers will take place. The Rangers will appear in full uniform and will pull on the same drill that has won them fame and many honors in various large cities. The Tall Cedar band, field music, the Booster Club, about 200 members of the Forest from Trenton, about 35 local members and a class of sapplings numbering nearly 25 will make up the rest of the line. Plenty of music will be furnished by the two outfits, the band and field music, and the general appearance of the parade and its maneuvers will long be remembered in Hopewell. Mayor Pierson will head the parade and the local Cedar members and sapplings will include many of the town's well known citizens. Many of Trenton's best known and publicly prominent men will also march. All the stores and most of the residences on Broad street will be decorated with flags and various forms of the national colors. It is expected that both sides of the street will be lined with spectators as this well known lodge is on its exerting every effort to put on a gala occasion.

Dr. Fisher's Following Prolonged Illness Dr. Claudius R. P. Fisher, of Bound Brook, formerly of Van Lieu's Corner, and remembered by many people in Hopewell, died Sunday morning at his home following an illness of several months. He had practiced medicine in Bound Brook for more than forty years. Dr. Fisher, who was the husband of Mary L. Fisher, formerly Mary L. Stryker, was born in Hunterdon county, a son of the late James S. Fisher, on August 14th, 1857. He graduated from Jefferson Medical School, Philadelphia, in the class of '77. He organized and for many years was head of the Bound Brook Board of Health. He was a vice-president of the First National Bank of Bound Brook, and had served a president of the Somerset County Medical Society and the Medical Society of New Jersey. He was also a member of the staff of the Somerset Hospital. He was afflicted with several fasonic bodies. Besides his widow, a son, William A. Fisher, of Bound Brook, survives the deceased. Dr. Fisher was a brother of Miss Rebecca Fisher, of this place, and William H. Fisher, of St. Paul, Minn.

Library Notes The new books for the shelves this week are: "Wolfe in the Desert," by T. E. Lawrence, in this book Lawrence of Arabia tells his story, reading like a modern Arabian Nights' tale is this true and amazing account of a great adventure he had as its stake the lives of thousands and the great kingdoms of the East; "Microbes Hunters," by Paul Krull, is an exhilarating and valuable contribution to one of the noblest chapters in the history of mankind and the heroes are brilliantly real, human men; "Hawkers and Walkers, Early America," by Richardson Wright, in this entertaining book is a forth account of strolling peddlers, preachers, lawyers, doctors, the circus, the puppets and peepshows, the trained animals and all those picturesque figures that once swelled the waving lines of the road, a volume rich in quaint and curious recollections of the early days of our country. "Extracts from Mr. Peppy's diary," with a sketch of his life, by Tanner, is another interesting book which gives a little account of the past. "In the American Brain," by Williams, is a beautifully illustrated and gives interesting accounts of men prominent in the discovery and civilization of the Americas.

Of the thirty-six who graduated at that time, sixteen are known to be living and nine of them signified their intention of being present.

Former Hopewell Boy Successful in Business Albert Miller Van Dyke, of Dawson, New Mexico, has returned to his home after spending a week with his mother following the funeral of his father, Wesley T. Van Dyke. "Van," as Mr. Van Dyke is intimately known in New Mexico, occupies a most enviable position among his neighbors and his success is entirely due to his own efforts. Something like thirty years ago he left Hopewell and without funds applied himself to business, always giving it up to the limit. At the present time he owns one ranch of 700 acres on what is called the Mesa, but his main ranch is one of 30,000 acres, near Raton, on which he pastures about 1,000 cows. In addition to this line of work he owns five garages in New Mexico and Colorado and is engaged in selling two well known automobiles in a large territory. He says he hopes to be able to spend the most of his time on his ranch before many more years have passed, for there may be had quiet and contentment.

Blawenburg Students Visit New York On Saturday, May 21, the eighth grade of Blawenburg school made an interesting visit to New York. The Parent-Teacher Association of that school paid half of each fare, thereby making it possible for the students to take the trip. The party visited many interesting places, among them the Statue of Liberty. Mrs. Zapf, a relative of one of the pupils entertained the party at dinner in her apartment, located near Columbia University. The students who took the trip were: Francis Seyfarth, Ira Allen, Kenneth Hall, Myrtle Terhune, Nina Schraf, Dorothy Skulman, Nellie Parski. They were accompanied by the teachers, Marguerite L. Cupp and Gladys E. Hall.

Edling Successful in Pharmacy Examination Richard H. Edling, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Edling, of Hopewell, recently passed the examinations given by the State Board of Pharmacy. Mr. Edling attended the local schools and served his clerkship with Paul S. Cutter, druggist. He will continue as a licensed druggist with Mr. Cutter.

Calvary Baptist Church Will Entertain Association The Central Baptist Association will hold its annual meeting at the Calvary Baptist church tomorrow. There will be sessions in the morning, afternoon and evening. Delegates will be able to secure dinner and supper at the church. The morning session will be taken up largely with Association business. There will be a historical sketch of the Lambertville church, and the annual sermon by Rev. Deans of the Livingston Avenue church in New Brunswick. The afternoon session will be turned over to the missionary society and state officers. The speakers for the evening session are Rev. W. O. Saunders, of Brooklyn, and Dr. Milton G. Evans, President of Crozer Seminary, Chester, Pa.

Delaware River Valley Association Officially Formed Towns of the size of Hopewell may now legitimately anticipate the kind of protection to which their respective locations entitles them since the Delaware River Valley Association has been formed. Leaders of 24 New Jersey and Pennsylvania communities attended the association's first meeting. The chief aim of the new organization is to see to it that the waters of the Delaware be utilized first for those who have the first claim upon this great asset. The desired result to be obtained from the association's efforts is a sane, inclusive preservation and development of the Delaware River Valley in all its interests.

C. Herbert Fetter Receives Bank Promotion Following the resignation yesterday of John A. Campbell as president of The Trenton Banking Company, of Trenton, the board of directors of the institution made some advancements in other offices. C. Herbert Fetter, of Hopewell, was one of those to receive a promotion. Mr. Fetter, who has been in charge of the Department of Investments, was elected as one of the vice-presidents of the bank. He has risen from his clerkship in the institution to an official position by dint of strictly attending to the interests of the bank at all times.
